Guide to the usage of this Handbook

The following is a general overview of the structure of this Handbook for the guidance of users. The contents are organised in a number of different sections (see below) each of which has a particular focus. The sections are interlinked by cross-references where relevant.

- (a) General Information: This section includes information on the professional status and recognition of the Faculty's degrees, its links with professional bodies and the list of qualifications offered. It also includes lists of the various prizes, medals and scholarships awarded on academic merit and contains information on the criteria for the Dean's Merit List.
- (b) Rules for degrees: This section covers the Faculty rules for each of the various degree programmes. These rules should be read in conjunction with the general University rules in the General Rules and Policies Handbook (Handbook 3). Students are expected to acquaint themselves with the rules in both Handbooks and to check annually whether the rules or curriculum requirements have changed since the last edition. Important rules: All students must familiarise themselves with the Degree Rules in this Handbook. In addition, students must refer to Handbook 3, General Rules and Policies and particularly take note of the following:
- rules relating to registration and examinations;
 - rules relating to changes of curriculum;
 - rules relating to leave of absence;
 - rules on Academic Conduct, N.B. the rules concerning dishonest conduct and plagiarism.

Detailed information on the undergraduate entrance requirements can be found in the University Prospectus. The PhD Degree rules are published in Handbook 3, General Rules and Policies.

- (c) Departments and Programmes: This section contains entries for each department in the Faculty. Each lists members of staff, a summary of laboratory, workshop and other facilities, the research entities, and the programmes of study administered by each department. The curriculum for each programme (list of required courses) is set out in table form. The curriculum tables must be read together with (cross-referenced to) the lists of courses in the Courses Offered section which is described under (e) below.
- (d) Centres/Units established in the Faculty and Centres, Departments, Schools and Units Established in other Faculties: There are entries for the principal Faculty entities/units which do not fall directly under academic departments e.g. the Centre for Research in Engineering Education and the Continuing Professional Development Programme and entries for the centres, units and departments in other faculties which offer courses for students registered in the Faculty. This is cross referenced to the list of courses offered in section (e).
- (e) Courses Offered: The full list and descriptions of courses offered by the Faculty, both undergraduate and postgraduate, is set out in this section in alpha-numeric order (i.e. based on the course code prefix) which identifies the department offering the course and the course number. The courses offered by other faculties which are more commonly taken by students in the Faculty of Engineering & the Built Environment are also listed and described. N.B. A key (guide) to the course code system, the credit system and terminology (definitions) is set out at the beginning of this section.

FACULTY OF LAW STATEMENT OF VALUES AND GOALS

We, the staff and students of the Faculty of Law of the University of Cape Town, recognise that we are a community of scholars, striving for excellence in all that we do. We are conscious of the fact that we are part of the broader South African society, and also the African and international academic community. We acknowledge the role played by the law in creating a society that was characterised by oppression and remains deeply divided by inequality.

We commit ourselves to the following goals: teaching and research which is of the highest quality; developing all staff and students to their fullest potential; promoting an institutional culture founded on mutual tolerance, respect, understanding, integrity and openness, one which values our common humanity and which celebrates and promotes diversity. In the pursuit of all these goals we hope to contribute to redressing the inequality and disparity that continues to exist within South African society.

We recognise that the realisation of these goals requires:

- Scholarship that is critical and compassionate, and which explores the potential of the law as a means to achieving justice for all;
- Leadership that is effective and promotes the values of the faculty;
- Accountable, inclusive and transparent decision-making in which staff and students are given the opportunity for effective participation;
- Open and critical debate that protects and promotes academic freedom and university autonomy;
- Provision to staff and students of opportunities and resources necessary for their optimal development.

We will strive to live these values and achieve these goals in our daily activities and exchanges with one another.

Historical Note

Law education in South African was launched with the Act 12 of 1858 - although the first lecture was not delivered until 16th April 1859. The early years are documented by Professor Denis Cowen and Professor Danie Visser in their history of the UCT Law Faculty, A History, 1858 – 2004. Lectures were delivered in the Master's Meeting Room in the old Supreme Court at the top of Adderley Street until 1896, after which the College Council sought to ensure that lectures be delivered in the College Buildings on Government Avenue. The year 1916 heralded the beginning of a new chapter in the story of South African legal education, when provision was made for the creation of the Universities of Cape Town and Stellenbosch. Of significance was the decision taken by the University authorities to appoint full-time professors of Law. In 1923 a Chair of Roman Law & Jurisprudence was established; and in 1925 a second Chair of Law was established. By 1939 there were 74 students registered in the Faculty. Current student numbers indicate over 1,000 registered Law students at undergraduate and postgraduate levels - drawn mostly from South Africa, but also from across the continent and elsewhere. Forty-three percent of students are postgraduate, indicating the strength of the UCT research endeavour in law, and the Faculty's growing contribution to knowledge development in the field of law.

Professional Qualification

The Legal Practice Act 28 of 2014 provides that the LLB is the universal legal qualification for admission and enrolment as an advocate or attorney. Normally those who wish to enter private practice as advocates are required to become members of a Bar Association by undergoing a period of training in pupillage with a practising member of the Bar and by sitting an admission examination. Before admission as an attorney, an LLB graduate must serve as a candidate attorney with a practising attorney. Attendance at a practical legal training course or performance of community service may reduce the period required to serve articles. Thereafter candidates write a professional examination set by the relevant provincial Law Society. Obtaining the LLB does not entitle non-citizens of South Africa to be admitted to practise in this country.

Language proficiency in the legal profession

There are no statutory language requirements for the practice of law. Language proficiency is, however, very important for the study and practice of law. Prospective lawyers are encouraged, therefore, to include courses in the national languages in their curricula. The four-year undergraduate LLB requires the inclusion of languages in its curriculum.

Degrees and Diplomas offered in the Faculty

Unless otherwise indicated, all qualifications are HEQSF aligned but SAQA registration numbers are still awaited for some qualifications.

Candidates holding first bachelor's degree may complete in shorter time.

The Postgraduate Diploma in Law can be taken in the specialisations as listed in the Postgraduate Section of this handbook.

The LLM and MPhil degrees may be taken by coursework and minor dissertation or by dissertation only.

Term Dates for 2022

Please refer to the website: <https://www.uct.ac.za/main/calendar/terms>.

QUALIFICATIONS IN THE FACULTY

The programmes in the Law Faculty are the Basic Legal Education Programme (leading to the LLB degree), the Advanced Legal Education Programme (leading to the LLM degree or a Postgraduate Diploma in Law) and research degrees in Law (leading to the LLM degree or a Doctor of Philosophy).

Basic Legal Education programme

The LLB degree provides students with a sound knowledge of the general principles of the South African legal system, and an ability to use legal materials effectively. Graduates should be able to critically assess, interpret and apply the law and have the historical, comparative and jurisprudential background that is essential for a thorough and critical understanding of law and legal institutions.

The courses taken for the LLB are Administrative Law, African Customary Law, Civil Procedure, Commercial Transactions Law, Constitutional Law, Corporation Law, Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Evidence, Foundations of South African Law, International Law, Jurisprudence, Labour Law, Law of Contract, Law of Delict, Law of Persons and Marriage, Law of Property, Law of Succession, South African Private Law: System and Context, and optional research and skills components.

These courses are offered in three streams: a five- or six-year combined Law and Humanities or Law and Commerce LLB stream, a three-year graduate LLB stream, and a four-year undergraduate LLB stream.

In each of these streams the courses are graded into three levels.

- At the Preliminary Level the courses acquaint students with both the background to and the foundations of the South African legal system, with legal thinking and analysis, and with an understanding of the role and function of law. In addition, particular attention is paid to reading and writing skills required for the senior courses.
- The Intermediate Level courses provide instruction on a more advanced level in a broad range of core subjects.
- The Final Level completes the degree and students are able to specialise by choosing from a range of optional courses.

Each level of the LLB degree curriculum includes a skills component which forms part of the degree programme and which cumulatively teaches students various generic skills such as problem solving, analysis, research and communication skills, and practical legal skills such as drafting of particular kinds of legal documents and legal argumentation, both written and oral. In particular, at the Final Level, a compulsory integrated assessment moot draws on elements of the skills components and courses studied in the earlier parts of the curriculum. Law students are required to make constructive use of the knowledge and skills they acquire by contributing to the community through Legal Aid or various other community service or outreach organisations.

Five- or six-year combined Law and Humanities or Law and Commerce LLB stream

Students enter this stream with the intention of following an undergraduate programme in Law and Humanities or Law and Commerce, leading to a BA, BSocSc or a BCom/BBusSc and thereafter a two-year graduate LLB. The objective of a broad-based education is achieved in this stream by including cognate courses which ensure that the student has a thorough grasp of at least one discipline outside of law.

Graduate LLB stream

Students enter this stream after having completed at least a bachelor's degree without law subjects. Students who have done a full degree in another discipline will have had an opportunity to develop their critical and analytical skills in a non-legal environment, and therefore will be equipped to benefit from legal studies.

Four-year undergraduate LLB stream

Students enter this stream as matriculants and complete the LLB degree in four years. Humanities courses are included in the curriculum so as to fulfil the objective of providing UCT Law graduates with a well-rounded broad-based legal education.

Advanced Legal Education programme

This programme provides an opportunity for law graduates to pursue their academic interests at a higher postgraduate level (towards a Postgraduate Diploma, LLM or PhD) or for any other suitably qualified graduate to gain high-level knowledge of a particular field of law (through an MPhil degree) by way of coursework (in a very wide range of subjects) and an associated dissertation.

DEPARTMENTS IN THE FACULTY

The Departments of the Faculty are located in the Wilfred and Jules Kramer Law School Building, Middle Campus. There are also Research Units attached to each of these departments.

Centre for Comparative Law in Africa

The Centre for Comparative Law in Africa (CCLA) was established in 2011 to promote the study of comparative law and draw on the strengths of comparative methodology to research into the multifaceted field of law in Africa. The Centre presents an opportunity to develop a discipline that lends itself to optimal application in the pluralistic legal frameworks within which life is lived in Africa. In its mission to contribute to the development of comparative law in Africa, the strategy of the CCLA is to establish the field at UCT, build capacity in it across the continent through academic programmes, apply comparative law expertise in consultancies and disseminate new knowledge in comparative law in Africa through conferences, publications and professional networks. Its location within the Department of Commercial Law recognises the centrality of comparative law to ongoing efforts at economic integration on the African continent. The CCLA offers an LLM/MPhil specialising in Comparative Business Law in Africa and conducts research on a variety of themes that apply the comparative methodology. The CCLA also provides support for Africa-focused doctoral research and undertakes capacity-building programmes in various issues of law in development in Africa that require comparative methods.

Corporate Law and Governance Unit

The Corporate Law and Governance Unit (CLGU) was established in 2021 and is situated within the Department of Commercial Law. Corporate governance has rapidly evolved, both internationally and in South Africa, into a complex and nuanced field. It is underpinned by principles of established company law, but potentially impacts many areas of commerce, law and society in new and challenging ways. The CLGU aims to create a forum which bridges the divide between academia and practice in this area, and to pursue innovative, excellent and relevant research, engagement and education in the field of corporate governance. CLGU members are academics and practitioners currently involved in various areas of corporate governance research and teaching on postgraduate courses at LLB and LLM/MPhil level. The CLGU also provides supervision and support for masters and doctoral research in the field of corporate law and governance.

Institute of Development and Labour Law

The Labour, Development and Governance Research Unit incorporates the Labour and Enterprise Project (LEP) and the Institute of Development and Labour Law (IDLL) and which was established at the beginning of 1996 through the merger of the Labour Law Unit (established in 1987) and the Institute of Development Law (established in 1992). It is situated in the Faculty of Law. Its objectives are to promote research into the law relating to development, governance and labour in Southern Africa, foster links and provide a reference point for scholarship and policy. It convenes conferences, seminars and workshops. It also produces, either independently or as part of joint projects, scholarly publications. The Institute participates in postgraduate teaching in Employment Law and Dispute Resolution as part of the School of Advanced Legal Studies programme.

Intellectual Property Unit

The Intellectual Property Unit (IP Unit) was set up in 2007 as a centre for policy research and teaching in intellectual property law. The IP Research Unit believes that it is important that developing countries participate in the evolution of the Intellectual Property policy and law systems to ensure that any changes take full account of the needs of emerging economies and therefore can benefit them.

The Unit and its members focus on examining the link between IP, innovation, development and public policy. The objective of the Unit is to create a leading IP programme in Africa that translates cutting edge research into excellent teaching and increases the number of highly skilled African IP experts. Important issues range from the way in which we access and share knowledge to strategies

Tax Unit for Fiscal Research

The Tax Unit for Fiscal Research is an interdisciplinary grouping that draws together academics from UCT's Faculties of Law and Commerce. It was founded in 2015. The Unit's vision is to be Africa's leading academic research unit in fiscal matters; to draw on global knowledge and research networks in developing fiscal knowledge for the benefit of developing countries, particularly the African continent and South Africa; to provide a globally recognised platform for engagement in fiscal matters, with an emphasis on a developing country / BRICS context; to maximise UCT's existing research and teaching capacity in the field of taxation and to develop and retain African expertise within Africa. Several large research projects, consultancy work for government bodies and private entities are all undertaken in the Unit. Academic staff associated with the Unit teach a substantial offering of tax courses across the Faculties of Law and Commerce, as well as organising and participating in conferences, seminars and public engagements. The Unit's activities are supported by a comprehensive cooperation agreement concluded with the International Bureau of Fiscal Documentation (IBFD).

UCT Law Clinic

The UCT Law Clinic operates as a fully functioning law practice run by a professional staff of practising attorneys who litigate in the District, Regional and High Courts on behalf of indigent people who would otherwise not have access to the law.

Final year students who work at the Law Clinic register for the Legal Practice course (DOL4500F/S) which allows them the opportunity to work as student legal advisors under the supervision of the Clinic's attorneys. The students take instruction from clients and learning is largely experiential. Skills learnt include how to consult and communicate with clients, communication and organisational skills, file management, trial advocacy and analytical problem solving, to list a few.

The Law Clinic is accredited by the Legal Practice Council and adheres strictly to its guidelines on professional conduct. The Law Clinic may be contacted at uctlawclinic@uct.ac.za or on +27 21-650 3775.

Centre for Rhetoric Studies

The Centre for Rhetoric Studies is located in the Kramer Law Building, Cross Campus Road, Middle Campus. The Centre can be contacted by email: philippe.salazar@uct.ac.za or website: www.rhetoricafrica.uct.ac.za. The Centre was founded in 1995 and remains unique on the African continent where it has pioneered the emergence of rhetoric studies (as mentioned in Blackwell's International Encyclopaedia of Communication). It concerns itself with multidisciplinary research in public rhetoric, deliberative democracy and argumentative culture. The Centre engages in three main activities: hosting research fellows, organising academic conferences and registering postgraduate students (M and PhD). It publishes its findings through the open access journal African Yearbook of Rhetoric. The Centre offers the Masters in Rhetoric Studies and the PhD in Rhetoric Studies (currently ten postgraduates are under supervision).

An LLB course on Rhetoric, Law and Society (PVL4604S) is also part of Private Law offerings. The Centre's directors may also offer supervision of LLB Independent Research Papers, as part of Private Law offerings, on appropriate topics related to rhetoric at large.

DST/NRF South African Research Chairs Initiative (SARChI): Mineral Law in Africa

The SARChI Chair for Mineral Law in Africa (MLiA) was launched in 2016 as part of the South African Research Chairs Initiative established by the Department of Science and Technology (DST) and the National Research Foundation (NRF). The SARChI: MLiA is hosted by the University of Cape Town within the Faculty of Law, Department of Private Law. Its research focus is on mineral law development in Africa. It produces independent and original research output on matters concerning this field of expertise. Its objectives include engaging with mining policy frameworks in South Africa and the rest of the African continent, to make constructive contributions towards shaping the legislative framework, and support the building of strong state capacity for the relevant institutions co-ordinating governance in the mining sector.

The SARChI: MLiA is responsible for offering the specialised Masters (LLM / MPhil) in the Law on the Extraction and Use of Mineral and Petroleum Resources. It also offers an undergraduate course in Mineral Law (PVL4504S).

Further information about MLiA, its objectives, projects and activities can be accessed from its official website (<http://www.mlia.uct.ac.za/>) or solicited by email (mlia@uct.ac.za).

Centre of Criminology

The Centre of Criminology is a research and teaching unit committed to advancing policy-relevant research and analysis on key issues of public safety, criminal justice and responses to crime. An enduring concern of the Centre has been a critical engagement with the conceptual and political boundaries of criminological enquiry, including South Africa's contribution to the discussion of Southern Criminology. Research topics have ranged from the local to the global. Recent years have seen detailed qualitative work conducted on criminal justice reforms and alternative forms of policing in South Africa; and violence against women. The Centre is actively involved in the teaching of courses at undergraduate and postgraduate levels. The Centre co-convenes the LLM and MPhil Programme on Criminology, Law and Society in the Department of Public Law, is involved in postgraduate supervision and supports a large cohort of doctoral students researching a wide range of topical issues.

Centre for Law and Society

The Centre for Law and Society (CLS) is an innovative multi-disciplinary research centre which provides a hub for scholars, students and activists to engage critically with, and work together on, the challenges facing Africa at the intersection of law and society. Through socio-legal research, teaching and critical exchange, CLS works with a new generation of lawyers, scholars, practitioners and activists to bring African perspectives to bear on questions of global significance in the field of law and society. CLS is committed to social justice, constitutionalism and transformation, providing an interactive space to collaborate on solutions to pressing social injustices, and to incubate ideas and projects to promote justice. CLS hosts a vibrant mix of young and established researchers, working across a range of disciplines, including development studies, law, anthropology and history, and actively supports the work of public intellectuals.

CLS co-convenes the LLM and MPhil Programme on Criminology, Law and Society in the Department of Public Law, where we teach a core course on Law and Society in Africa, focused on the work of African scholars writing in, on and from Africa.

Our vision is of a socially just Africa, where equality and constitutional democracy are upheld by progressive and accountable legal systems, enforced by independent and transformative judiciaries anchored by a strong rule of law.

Our mission is to advance social justice and constitutional democracy in Africa by:

- Conducting applied and comparative research;
- Supporting the development of an independent, accountable and progressive judiciary;
- Promoting gender equality and diversity in the judiciary and in the legal profession;
- Providing free access to law; and
- Enabling scholarship, advocacy and online access to legal information.

Refugee Rights Unit

The Refugee Rights Unit is a research unit situated in the Law Faculty. The work of the Refugee Rights Unit comprises of the following four components; a legal aid clinic, a research unit, teaching, and advocacy and training. The provision of legal aid for refugees was started as a project within the existing UCT Law Clinic, fulfilling a social responsibility function. The Refugee Rights Project became operationally independent from the Law Clinic in 2006 and has since evolved into a fully-fledged research unit, incorporating a Refugee Rights Clinic. The Refugee Rights Unit is funded by and operates as an implementing partner of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR).

The Unit teaches three elective courses in the Law Faculty: Refugee and Immigration Law (PBL4506F), and Public Interest Litigation (PBL4111S) to final year LLB students, and Refugee Law and Human Rights (PBL5653F) to the LLM class. The Unit's teaching components also include supervision of graduate level research work in the field of forced migration (including refugee and immigration law, statelessness and internal displacement). Students engage with current issues facing refugees and asylum seekers in South Africa, including litigation undertaken by the Practice. Students are also encouraged to volunteer at the Refugee Law Clinic in order to gain practical experience and fulfil community service requirements.

The legal practice provides the Unit with a close link to the practical application of refugee law in South Africa and therefore directly informs and supports the Unit's teaching activities and research outputs. As experts and practitioners in the areas of refugee and immigration law, the Unit produced two books; Refugee law in South Africa and Immigration law in South Africa.

The Working Paper Series (<http://www.refugeerights.uct.ac.za/working-papers-series/>) publishes the research reports of the Refugee Rights Unit, occasional papers of the Unit's staff, and versions of some of the papers presented by the Refugee Rights Unit. A key focus of the Working Papers is the promotion of the rights of refugees in South Africa and the Global South. The Unit remains committed to directly assisting refugees and asylum seekers, and to teaching and engaging in research which can be used to promote and further the law in this area and as an advocacy tool in the future.

Further details may be obtained from The Refugee Rights Unit, Department of Public Law, Faculty of Law, University of Cape Town, Private Bag X3, Rondebosch, 7701, Telephone +27 21 650 5581, Fax +27 21 650 4107, or Web: <http://www.refugeerights.uct.ac.za>.

The Southern African Legal Information Institute

The Southern African Legal Information Institute (SAFLII) is an online repository of legal information from South Africa that aims to promote the rule of law and judicial accountability by publishing legal material for open access in line with the objectives of the global Free Access to Law Movement. SAFLII also hosts legal materials from other countries in the region which are obtained through partnerships, collaborative efforts and more recently through linking to other Legal Information Institutes established in these regions. Recent SAFLII Projects include the launch of

OTHER UNITS AND FACILITIES

Brand Van Zyl Law Library

The Brand Van Zyl Law Library is located in the Wilfred & Jules Kramer Law building and has South African, foreign, international and comparative legal materials, including monographs, law reports, statutes and journals. It also offers electronic resources, including indexes and full-text databases of case law, statutes and journal articles.

The Brand van Zyl Antiquarian collection, reputedly the finest outside Europe and the USA, comprises about 5,000 volumes chiefly on Roman-Dutch Law, including many 17th- and 18th-century legal works.

The library facilities include the Postgraduate Research Commons, the Training Room, private and group study carrels, and multifunctional printers. It offers a 24/7 study space, has 460 seating spaces, 90 computers, WiFi and power points. Students can also access our electronic resources off campus.

The library offers a reference service in person and electronically, LibGuides, Faculty research guides and YouTube videos. Students can also access the RefWorks and EndNote bibliographic management tools. The library offers a current awareness service to academics and students via Legalbrief.

Computer Resources

The Law Faculty believes that all its graduates should be computer literate and must know how to use the Internet and electronic legal resources for research and communication. Each and every student registered in the Faculty has a UCT email account, along with the use of the computers in the Law Faculty email bar in the Kramer Law building (on level 2) and in the Brand Van Zyl Law Library (level 2 and 1). Among the facilities available to students are word-processing for assignments, internet and email, and access to a range of South African and international electronic legal databases.

Students in the Faculty are offered training in general computer knowledge and word processing skills, also in the use of a wide range of electronic legal resources, such as LexisNexis and Jutastat. Many of these resources are listed on the Law Library's homepage at <http://www.law.lib.uct.ac.za/>.

30 OTHER UNITS AND FACILITIES

The Law Faculty has a comprehensive website which gives details about degrees and courses offered in the Faculty, about the staff and their teaching and research, and about the Brand Van Zyl Law Library and the services offered.

The Law Faculty homepage also supports the Constitutional Assembly Database of information relating to the drafting of South Africa's 1993 and 1996 Constitutions. Visit the Law Faculty's homepage at www.law.uct.ac.za.

COURSES IN THE FACULTY

COURSE CODES

Every course described has a name and corresponding code. Each code has eight characters as follows, AAAInnnB, where:

AAA	is the three-alpha code of the department or unit administering the course (or in the case of a Faculty-administered course, of the Dean's Office)
I	indicates the academic level of the course
nnn	a number between 001 and 999 identifying the course
B	the 'year portion' indicator, or suffix, identifying the type of course and when it is offered
A	1 st quarter course	B	2 nd quarter course
C	3 rd quarter course	D	4 th quarter course
F	1 st semester (half) course	H	Half course taught over full year
J	Summer term session 1 course	L	Winter term course
M	Commerce entrance examination	N	Commerce entrance examination
P	Summer term session 2 course	Q	Semester 1 online course
R	Semester 2 online course	S	2 nd semester (half) course
T	Whole year online course	U	Summer term course taught over full session
V	Non-standard online course	W	Course taught over whole year
X	Special allocation	Z	Non-standard course

RULES FOR LLB DEGREE STREAMS

The following are rules for specific study programmes in the Faculty. They must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies of the University of Cape Town.

NOTE: The rules in this section apply to all students who registered for the LLB for the first time in or after 2012 or who repeated the preliminary year in or after 2012. Students who registered for the LLB for the first time up to and including 2011 should refer to Rules for LLB Degree Streams (up to 2011) in the 2015 Law Faculty Handbook.

Admission and Curriculum Rules

The Basic Legal Education Programme is offered in three streams:

- (a) the three-year graduate LLB
- (b) the two-year graduate LLB
- (c) the four-year undergraduate LLB

Admission requirements for these streams as well as for the combined Law and Humanities and Law and Commerce LLB streams may be found in Book 1: Undergraduate Prospectus.

Transferring students

Internal

A UCT student who has not been excluded from another faculty within UCT may be considered for admission to the Faculty of Law for the purpose of taking or completing the LLB degree, provided the applicant satisfies the requirements for admission to the degree programme into which the student would be transferring. Successful applicants may be granted credits or exemptions or both for courses already completed, up to a maximum of four full courses (or the equivalent).

External

A non-UCT student who has not been excluded from another university may be considered for admission to the Faculty of Law, provided the applicant satisfies the requirements for admission to the degree programme into which the student would be transferring. Successful applicants may be granted credits or exemptions or both for courses already completed, up to a maximum of four full courses (or the equivalent). Credits and exemptions will only be granted for courses completed at another institution if the Faculty is satisfied that the courses taken elsewhere are substantially equivalent, in both content and standard, to the courses offered at UCT. Such transferring students will be required to complete the remaining courses prescribed for the degree at this University over a period of not less than two years.

Duration of the streams of the Basic Legal Education programme

- FP1 Subject to the provisions that follow, the curriculum for the four-year undergraduate stream of the Basic Legal Education programme will extend over four years; the curriculum for the five-year undergraduate curriculum stream will extend over five years.
- FP2 Subject to the provisions that follow, the curriculum for the three-year graduate stream of the Basic Legal Education programme will extend over three years.
- FP3 Subject to the provisions that follow, the curriculum for the two-year graduate stream of the Basic Legal Education programme will extend over two years.

Curriculum Requirements:

FP4.4 A candidate in the Final Level of the degree must choose elective courses totalling a minimum of 36 NQF credits. Two kinds of electives are on offer: lectures and examination electives and seminars and research paper electives. Every Final Level student must do at least one seminars and research paper elective, but any student may do an Independent Research Paper of 8000 words instead of the seminars and research paper elective.

- FP4.5 A candidate may undertake additional elective courses amounting to not more than 18 NQF credits.
- FP4.6 The maximum number of credits for elective courses in the Final Level is 54 credits.
- FP4.7 Intermediate Level students may register for DOL4500F/S Legal Practice (previously Legal Aid and Legal Practice) if
 - (i) they have achieved an average of 65% in the Preliminary Level law courses; and
 - (ii) the Director of UCT Law Clinic has admitted them into the course.

NOTE: The Head of Department together with the Faculty member concerned is responsible for deciding whether an approved optional course for which fewer than five students register should be offered.

Four-year undergraduate LLB stream (LB002)

- FP5.1 The curriculum for the four-year, undergraduate LLB stream requires a candidate to complete prescribed law courses and a minimum number of non-law courses as set out below.
- FP5.2 A candidate must
 - (a) show in a test prescribed by Senate that he or she has an ability to deal with the numerical problems that arise in law; or
 - (b) if he or she fails to obtain at least 66% in this test, complete the course MAM1013F Law That Counts: Quantitative Literacy for Law

A candidate may not attempt the numeracy test a second time.
 Note that candidates admitted to the third (Intermediate) year and graduate LLB programme are exempted from this course.
Candidates are referred to FP5.3.1. A candidate who has passed the numeracy test with a score of at least 66% must complete an additional semester course offered in another faculty.
- FP5.3 The courses prescribed for the undergraduate LLB stream are:

FP6.1 All streams of the curriculum for the LLB degree have a skills component which forms part of each level of the degree programme. The skills component is compulsory.
Candidates in the respective levels of the degree must comply with the requirements of the skills component tasks. For the purposes of design and co-ordination, the four-year LLB stream pattern is used.

FP6.2 In each academic year the following are included:

- writing skills (including essay work, opinion work and drafting)
- computer skills
- problem solving
- analysis
- research (including library skills)
- oral presentation (including preparation for debates and seminars)

FP6.3 In the FIRST year, there should be emphasis on:

- writing skills
- problem solving
- reading skills

FP6.4 In the SECOND year, there should be emphasis on:

- problem solving
- analysis including critical analysis
- oral presentation

FP6.5 In the THIRD year, in addition to fulfilling course-specific requirements such as assignments and tests every student must:

- write one essay and one opinion
- attend all tutorials (or submit written work at the discretion of the course convener)

FP6.6 In the FOURTH year, there should be:

- an Integrative Assessment Moot. The Integrative Assessment Moot ('IAM') is an integrative capstone LLB assessment. Its objectives are to assess students' ability to work collaboratively in pairs to identify the legal issues and apply the relevant law to a complex factual scenario or given case that integrates a variety of areas of law taught as separate compulsory courses in the LLB curriculum; prepare written Heads of Argument; present legal argument orally; and respond to oral questioning in simulated court proceedings.

Progress rules for LLB degree streams

Graduate LLB stream

Note: In the following rules provision is made for the permission of Senate to deviate from the rules. Senate's authority to permit deviations from the rules governing the curriculum of an LLB student is delegated to the Deputy Dean (Undergraduate Studies).

FP7.1 A candidate who has only one half course outstanding from the Preliminary Level may proceed to the Intermediate Level of study and repeat the outstanding half course in that year; and a candidate who has only one course (or two half courses) outstanding from the Intermediate Level may proceed to the Final Level of study and repeat the outstanding course (or two half courses) in that year. Additional courses may only be carried with the permission of Senate.

NOTE: Such candidates are advised that they must check lecture timetables to ensure that they do not register for courses inducing clashes either during the year, or in the examinations. Students are required to fulfil all course requirements, including attendance, when repeating a course.

FP7.2 A candidate who has more than

- (a) one half course outstanding from the Preliminary Level may not register for more than four full courses or the equivalent, which must include the outstanding course(s) from the Preliminary Level; or
- (b) one course (or two half courses) outstanding from the Intermediate Level may not register for more than four full courses or the equivalent, which must include the outstanding course(s) from the Intermediate Level.

NOTE: With permission of the relevant course convener and provided he or she is representing the Faculty at a national, regional or international moot court competition, a student at Intermediate Level may register for DOL3000X Moot Competition. The student may be credited with 9 NQF credits and may be exempted from a seminar and research paper elective (Moot Caput option) in the Final Level of the LLB.

Combined undergraduate/graduate stream

A student in the combined stream must follow the curriculum as set out below subject to the rules of the Humanities or Commerce Faculties. Please note that students are not permitted to register for senior law courses unless the pre-requisites are met. See the syllabus section in the relevant Faculty handbook for details.

46 RULES FOR LLB DEGREE STREAMS

Four-year undergraduate LLB stream

FP8.1 A candidate who has only one half course outstanding from the first or second year may proceed, with permission of Senate, to the second or third year respectively and repeat the outstanding half course in that year. This provision applies in respect of non-law and law courses inclusively.

A candidate who has only one course (or two half courses) outstanding from the third year may proceed, with permission of Senate, to the fourth year of study and repeat the outstanding course (or two half courses) in that year.

NOTE: Such candidates are advised that they must check lecture timetables to ensure that they do not register for courses inducing clashes either during the year, or in the examinations. Students are required to fulfil all course requirements, including attendance, when repeating a course.

FP8.2 A candidate who has failed more than one half course in the first or second year, or a candidate who has failed more than one course (or two half courses) in the third year, may not register for the set of courses prescribed for the second, third or final year of study (respectively) but may, nevertheless, register for not more than four full courses or the equivalent, which must include the course(s) outstanding from the previous year of study.

NOTE: With permission of the relevant course convener and provided he or she is representing the Faculty at a national, regional or international moot court competition, a student at Intermediate Level may register for DOL3000X Moot Competition. The student may be credited with 9 NQF credits and may be exempted from a seminar and research paper elective (Moot Caput option) in the Final Level of the LLB.

Five-year stream * No new intake after 2019. Offered to continuing students only.

FP9.1 Except with permission of Senate, a candidate may not register for any course prescribed for the second year of study unless he or she has completed all the courses prescribed for the first year of study.

FP9.2 Except with permission of Senate, a candidate may not register for any course prescribed for the third year of study unless he or she has completed all the courses prescribed for the second year of study.

FP9.3 Except with permission of Senate, a candidate may not register for any course prescribed for the fourth year of study unless he or she has completed all the courses prescribed for the third year of study.

FP9.4 Except with permission of Senate, a candidate may not register for any course prescribed for the fifth year of study unless he or she has completed all the courses prescribed for the fourth year of study.

NOTE: With permission of the relevant course convener and provided he or she is representing the Faculty at a national, regional or international moot court competition, a student at Intermediate Level may register for DOL3000X Moot Competition. The student may be credited with 9 NQF credits and may be exempted from a seminar and research paper elective (Moot Caput option) in the Final Level of the LLB.

FP9.5 Notwithstanding the provisions of Rules FP9.1, FP9.2, FP9.3 and FP9.4, a candidate who has only one half course outstanding from the first, second or third year may proceed, with permission of Senate, to the second, third or fourth year respectively and repeat the outstanding half course in that year. This provision applies in respect of non-law and law courses inclusively.

A candidate who has only one course (or two half courses) outstanding from the fourth year may proceed, with permission of Senate, to the fifth year of study and repeat the outstanding course (or two half courses) in that year.

NOTE: Such candidates are advised that they must check lecture timetables to ensure that they do not register for courses inducing clashes either during the year or in the examinations. Students are required to fulfil all course requirements, including attendance, when repeating a course.

FP9.6 In addition to the provisions of Rules FP9.1, FP9.2, FP9.3 and FP9.4, a candidate who has failed more than one half course in the first, second or third year, and a candidate who has failed more than one course (or two half courses) in the fourth year, may register for not more than four full courses or the equivalent, which must include all the courses outstanding from the previous year of study.

General progress rules for all streams

Maximum number of courses in any year

FP10.1 Except with permission of Senate, a candidate may not register for more than the equivalent of:

- (i) nine half courses at the Preliminary Level
- (ii) twelve half courses at the Intermediate Level
- (iii) fourteen half courses at the Final Level.

NOTE: For the purposes of this rule, year 3 of the undergraduate five-year curriculum stream is regarded as Preliminary Level.

FP10.2 Notwithstanding FP10.1 a student may take Humanities courses offered in the Summer Term.

Minimum requirements for readmission

FP11.1 A candidate may be refused permission to renew his/her registration in the Faculty if he/she fails:

- (i) the equivalent of four half courses or more at any level; or
- (ii) to complete all the courses prescribed for the degree within the prescribed time plus two years.

FP11.2 A student on a five-year undergraduate curriculum stream may be refused permission to renew his/her registration in the Faculty if he or she fails the equivalent of three half courses.

NOTE: Where a student is permitted to write supplementary examinations, the minimum requirements for readmission will apply only after such supplementary examinations are written.

FP12 A student who is refused permission to re-register in the Faculty may appeal to the Faculty Readmission Appeal Committee in accordance with procedures laid down by Senate. The decision of the Faculty Readmission Appeal Committee will be final and will not be subject to further review or appeal.

48 RULES FOR LLB DEGREE STREAMS

Absence from examinations

- FP13.1 A student who fails to write the examination in a course for which he or she is registered will be deemed to have failed the course for the purposes of the minimum requirements for readmission.
- FP13.2 Senate may grant permission to a student to write a test on a different day where he or she is unable to write for medical reasons, or has religious objections, or political objections, or other good cause for not writing on the scheduled day or days. The granting of permission is entirely at the discretion of Senate, irrespective of the grounds (including medical) on which the application is made. The application must be made to the Dean within 7 days of the test. Exemption from a test or other course requirement is a concession to depart from degree requirements (see FP20).

Sub-minimum mark in final examinations

- FP15 A candidate must obtain a sub-minimum of 45% in each University examination in a course in order to obtain credit for that course, subject to Rule FP15.

Oral examination

- FP15.1 A candidate in his or her final year of study has the right to an oral examination in any course which he or she has failed (because he or she failed to obtain a mark of 50% overall or failed to obtain a mark of 45% in the final examination) if he or she has:
scored 47% or more overall in that course.
- FP15.2 A candidate must be given at least three days' (72 hours) notice of any oral examination.
- FP15.3 Where possible, the external examiner will be present at an oral examination. If the external examiner is not able to be present, another examiner external to the course, who may be a member of staff, must be present.

NOTE: Oral examinations may be held over a weekend.

Supplementary examinations

- FP16.1 Senate may permit a candidate to write supplementary examinations in the equivalent of five half courses in any one year, provided that he or she has reached a sufficiently high standard when failing such course(s).

The decision on whether to award a supplementary examination will be taken by the Faculty Examination Committee on the recommendation of the Head of Department in which the course is offered.

Students who are granted supplementary examinations will be required to re-write the whole formal examination component, including all papers, practicals, etc., which constituted the original formal examination component.

Deferred examinations

- FP17.1 Deferred examinations on medical or compassionate grounds are considered by a committee established by Senate for this purpose in terms of the general university rules (see G27.1 in "General Rules for Degrees", Handbook 3 General Rules and Policies). If the deferred examination is granted, the candidate will be required to write only those portions of the original examination which he or she missed.
- FP17.2 Application must be submitted to the Student Records Office, in the prescribed format, within seven days from the first examination (written, oral, or practical) which the student missed or was unable to complete.

- FP17.3 A student who becomes ill during an examination must proceed directly from the examination venue to the Student Wellness Service unless the nature of the illness makes this impossible.
- FP17.4 Misreading of the examination timetable will not be condoned or accepted; neither is it a ground for a deferred examination. (See G20.9 in “General Rules for Degrees”, Handbook 3 General Rules and Policies.)

Distinction

- FP18 The degree may be awarded cum laude or magna cum laude.
- FP18.1 For the degree to be awarded cum laude a candidate must:
- (i) complete the curriculum in the minimum time without failing any course, unless such failure is condoned by Senate;
 - (ii) obtain an average of 70% in all law courses completed at this University; and
 - (iii) obtain a First Class pass in at least six full law courses or the equivalent.
- FP18.2 For the degree to be awarded magna cum laude a candidate must:
- (i) complete the curriculum in the minimum time without failing any course, unless such failure is condoned by Senate;
 - (ii) obtain an average of 75% in all law courses completed at this University; and
 - (iii) obtain a First Class pass in at least nine full law courses, or the equivalent.
- FP18.3 In the case of a candidate who has transferred from another university, Senate may in exceptional circumstances depart from the rules relating to the number of courses for which a First Class pass must be obtained and award a degree cum laude or magna cum laude. Senate may do so only if, after having reviewed the academic record of the candidate at such other university, Senate is satisfied that the candidate would have fulfilled the requirements for the degree to be so awarded if he or she had completed the degree at this University.

NOTE: For an explanation on how averages are computed, please refer to the entry on “Dean’s Merit List”.

Concurrent registration

- FP19 Except with permission of Senate, a student may not register for any course taken at another university in the same year during which such student is registered at the University of Cape Town.

Deviations from the rules

- FP20 Senate may, on the recommendation of the Dean after consultation with the Head of Department concerned, permit a deviation from the rules governing the curriculum of a student.
- A student may apply for such deviation by timeously submitting to the Dean a completed concession application form, obtainable from the Faculty Office.

NOTE: Senate’s authority to permit deviations from the rules governing the curriculum of an LLB student is delegated to the Deputy Dean: Undergraduate Studies.

NOTE: Some of the non-Law courses required for the undergraduate LLB appear below. This is not an exhaustive list. Curriculum requirements for the different LLB streams are set out in the section Rules for LLB degree streams.

ELL1013F LITERATURE: HOW AND WHY?

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr K B Highman

Course entry requirements: None

Course outline:

What is 'literature' and how does it work? How and why can we read and think critically? What does close attention to plays, novels and poems tell us as we grapple with the meanings of being human within a 21st century world? How can we trace the shift from 'English literature' to 'literature in English', from our specific and simultaneously myriad locations? This introduction to literary studies offers a range of critical tools and methods for reading and writing about texts in the most interesting and thought-provoking ways possible. The course also introduces students to literary and rhetorical terms, and to basic issues in literary studies. Different literary genres will be explored and analysed, including the novel, poetry and drama. Students will be introduced to different kinds of critical writing and will engage in honing their own critical skills. As an introductory course, we use content that engages the diversity of students' lifeworlds and is cognizant of our African location. We employ innovative teaching and delivery methods that allow more time for active engagement and the development of critical reading and writing skills in the Humanities.

Lecture times: 2nd period, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

DP requirements: All written work to be handed in and at least 75% attendance at tutorials.

Assessment: Continuous assessment (essays, projects, tests, etc.) counts 100%.

ELL1016S IMAGE, VOICE, WORD

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr B Fortuin

Course entry requirements: None

Course outline:

As an introduction to cultural and literary studies, this course examines an array of modes of expression as we seek to understand how texts of various kinds accomplish their acts of meaning-making and persuade their readers. We will give attention to the impact of a text's form and context in shaping its message, as well as its content. In trying to understand the rhetorical effects of any given text, we will examine examples from across a variety of genres that use words, images and even sound to engage their audience or readers, within a variety of historical and political contexts. Objects of study will include texts that use sound as well as words (such as contemporary ballads, performance poetry and hip hop, or contemporary adaptations of Shakespeare's plays), visual images (such as posters in a protest action, photographs that document war and suffering, and historical maps that retraced the shape the world), and words collated and presented in particular ways on the page (such as the archived documents from the apartheid censors, the published journal of a fugitive slave, the extended prose of a stream-of-consciousness novel). By drawing on key theoretical insights into the politics of representation, we aim to develop the critical skills needed to become savvy readers of contemporary culture and politics. The course aims to build upon the skills in critical reading and writing taught in ELL1013F.

54 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

Lecture times: 2nd period, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.

SLL1002FS WORD POWER

(A course in etymology) (NOTE: This course may also be offered in Summer/Winter Term - please consult the Faculty.)

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Dr J A Murray

Course entry requirements: None

Course outline:

The course consists of two components:

- i. words and ideas: focus on concepts associated with the ancient Greek and Roman civilisations of the Mediterranean and key words in English derived from Greek and Latin;
- ii. a knowledge of English word-formation and evolution from the lexical resources of the Greek and Latin languages, as well as other languages, particularly as this knowledge enhances word-building skills and increases confidence in the use of English of an academic register. As an introductory course to the study of language, we use content that engages the diversity of students' own lexicons and is cognizant of our African location. We employ innovative teaching and delivery methods, including multilingual pedagogies and digital literacy, that allow more time for active engagement and the development of critical reading and writing skills in the Humanities.

Lecture times: 1st semester: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday 5th period; 2nd semester: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday 5th or 8th periods.

DP requirements: Students must attend all tutorials, submit all tutorial assignments, and write all tests.

Assessment: One two-hour examination at the end of the semester counts for 50% of the final mark; coursework counts for 50%.

MAM1013F LAW THAT COUNTS

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: R Rix

Course entry requirements: None. Students can be exempted ONLY on the basis of adequate performance in the Quantitative Literacy component of the National Benchmark Test.

Objective: The course is intended to provide Law students with the necessary quantitative literacy to be able to understand, express and interpret appropriate quantitative ideas. The aim of the course is to give students an appreciation and understanding of mathematical and statistical ideas within real life and legal contexts, and generally with a social justice focus.

Course outline:

Content covered includes percentages, ratios, interest and finance concepts, interpretation of graphs, manipulation of data, interpretation of statistics and use of spreadsheets.

Lecture times: Monday - Friday, 4th period

DP requirements: Achieve a class record of 40% and 75% attendance at lectures and tutorials.

Assessment: Two written assessments, one assignment and assessment of computer tutorials contribute to the class record that counts 50% of the final mark. The final examination consists of a written paper and a computer assessment that together count 50% of the final mark.

Law Courses

PBL2000W CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

Preliminary Level, whole year course

36 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor C Powell

Course entry requirements: Undergraduate LLB students: concurrent registration with PBL2001H and PVL2002H. Graduate LLB students: concurrent registration with PVL1003W, PVL1004F, PVL1008H, PVL2002H, PVL2003H.

Course outline:

The first part of the course provides an introduction to the history of South African constitutional law and basic concepts such as democracy, legitimacy, constitutionalism, federalism, separation of powers and the rule of law. It then considers the institutional framework provided by the South African Constitution in detail.

The second part of the course focuses on the protection of human rights in the Constitution. It examines the operation of the Bill of Rights and, using both SA cases and the jurisprudence of constitutional courts in other jurisdictions as well as the European Court of Human Rights, considers freedom of speech, equality and affirmative action, the protection of property rights and social and economic rights among other issues.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: November examination (3 hour) 60%; The year mark contributes the remaining 40% of the mark.

PVL1003W FOUNDATIONS OF SOUTH AFRICAN LAW

Preliminary Level, whole year course, three lectures per week.

36 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Professor AJ Barnard-Naudé

DOL3000X MOOT COMPETITION

9 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Course outline:

Intermediate year students selected to participate in national or international moot competitions may register for this course. To complete it successfully, students must submit adequate heads of argument and participate in a national or international moot competition presided over by more than one person under the supervision of a Faculty academic member of staff. Students may be credited with 9 NQF credits and may be exempted from a seminars-and-research-paper elective (Moot Caput option) in the Final Level of the LLB.

Assessment: Heads of argument will count for 100% unless the supervisor agrees to allocate a percentage of the mark to oral presentation. The percentage of the mark allocated to oral presentation shall be in the supervisor's discretion and may not exceed 50 %.

DOL3001X COMMUNITY SERVICE

0 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor J Omar

Course entry requirements: For students who first register for the course in or after 2020, all Preliminary Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

It is a compulsory requirement for the LLB degree that, during the course of the degree, all law students must complete a certain number of hours of community service work. The clinical and/or field work must be legally orientated, must be offered through an approved service provider, and must provide a direct service or benefit to an underprivileged or disadvantaged or vulnerable group or person. An approved service provider is one that has been approved by the Law Faculty's Community Service Committee and may include: a) organisations that are directly affiliated to the Law Faculty; b) organisations that are directly affiliated to Law Faculty-based approved service providers; c) external organisations or projects that have been specifically approved by the Law Faculty's Community Service Committee. Programmes/projects of approved service providers and organisations that are linked to Law Faculty-based approved service providers and through which services are offered must also have been approved by the Law Faculty's Community Service Committee. This course does not attract a fee. Details of approved service providers are available from the Community Service Vula site. Administrative queries should be directed to N Campbell (Servicing Officer), Room 4.38.1, Kramer Law Building, email: nikki.campbell@uct.ac.za and substantive queries may be directed to Associate Professor J Omar, email: jameelah.omar@uct.ac.za. Students must regularly complete and submit their official timesheets to the servicing officer via Vula for verification, signature and uploading.

For students who first registered for the course prior to 2020:

58 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

Students who first registered for the course prior to 2020 must complete a total of 30 hours of unremunerated community service during the course of their degree. Students who have successfully completed Legal Practice DOL4500F/S will receive a credit for this course without having to complete any community service work apart from that completed for the purposes of Legal Practice. Students must be registered for community service in the year that it is performed in order for those hours to qualify as part of their community service. The usual practice is for students to register for the first time in Intermediate Year. However, the total of 30 hours may be performed in whole or in part in any year of the LLB by any student who has successfully completed all the Prelim A courses (LLB) and has registered for the community service course. Note that the Law Faculty's Community Service Committee may prescribe specific conditions for the performance of community service by students who have successfully completed all Prelim A courses but are not yet in their Intermediate or Final Year, and these will be published on the Vula course site at the beginning of each year. Students who have not completed all 30 hours of community service will not be permitted to graduate.

For students who first register for the course in or after 2020:

They will be required to complete a certain number of hours in Intermediate Year in the form of community service tuition and assignment activities. The details of these will be communicated to students at the beginning of the academic year. Students will also be required to complete 18 hours of unremunerated community service through approved service providers. Students who have successfully completed Legal Practice DOL4500F/S will receive a credit for the 18 hours of service but not for the tuition and assignment activities. Students must be registered for community service in the year that it is performed in order for those hours to qualify as part of their community service. Students who have not completed all the tuition and assignment activities and all 18 hours of community service will not be permitted to graduate.

Assessment: Coursework 100%

DOL3002X INTERMEDIATE YEAR SKILLS COMPONENT

0 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: TBA

Course outline:

In the Intermediate year of the LLB, in addition to fulfilling course-specific requirements such as assignments and tests, every student must write one essay and one opinion and attend all tutorials (or submit written work at the discretion of the course convener). This non-credit bearing course will ensure compliance with the Intermediate year requirements and also ensure that each student benefits from the skills component of the LLB.

Assessment: No formal assessment. Students are required to submit two written assignments (one essay and one opinion) and attend all tutorials.

Intermediate Level, second semester, 36 lectures and tutorials.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor F Osman

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The course provides an overview of the historical recognition of customary law during the colonial and apartheid periods to demonstrate the effect of these policies on customary law today. It analyses the Constitution's recognition of customary law and impact the Constitution has had on both the application and development of customary law. The course further facilitates an understanding of legal theory with the objective of analysing whether customary law is consistent with modern legal theory. At a substantive level, the course examines the customary law regulating marriage, succession, traditional authority, land and dispute resolution.

Lectures and tutorials are aimed at ensuring that students engage critically with customary law sources and can contextualise the law, politics and commercial interests surrounding the substantive topics.

DP requirements: Please refer to the course handout and/or the intermediate year schedule.

60 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

Assessment: Coursework 50% Final Examination 50%.

DOL4000H INTEGRATIVE ASSESSMENT MOOT

0 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Objective: The Integrative Assessment Moot ('IAM') is an integrative capstone LLB assessment. Its objectives are to assess students' ability to work collaboratively in pairs to identify the legal issues and apply the relevant law to a complex factual scenario or given case that integrates a variety of areas of law taught as separate compulsory courses in the LLB curriculum; prepare written Heads of Argument; present legal argument orally; and respond to oral questioning in simulated court proceedings.

Course outline:

The IAM will take place in the second semester. Students registered for the course will be divided into and will moot against each other in pairs. Each moot will have two opposing teams of two members. Participants in each moot will be provided with a complex factual scenario or stated case that raises legal issues and covers law from a number of compulsory LLB courses. Each mooting team will be required to submit joint written Heads of Argument and each student will be required to present oral argument and respond to oral questioning on the issues and law arising out of the given scenario or case before a bench of judges made up of a number of academic members of staff in simulated court proceedings. Each student will be assessed individually on the basis of their joint written Heads of Argument, their individual oral argument and their individual responses to questioning from the judges. Students will be graded on a Pass/Fail basis by the panel of judges who adjudicated the moot concerned. Each year, at the end of the IAM, there will be a 'Moot-Off' between the four students identified as the best mooters in that year's IAM. The Moot-Off will be a public event presided over by a judge and/or senior legal practitioner. The best-performing student in the Moot-Off will be awarded the Faculty Moot Prize.

DP requirements: Attendance and completion of a library training session in legal research resources.

PBL4001W ADMINISTRATIVE LAW

Final level, whole year course.

36 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

62 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

This course deals primarily with the legal rules surrounding the exercise of public power, both as they empower and regulate. In particular it deals with the role of the courts in controlling the exercise of public power, but it also looks at alternatives to judicial review as other important ways of holding public power to account. After a general introduction, an overview of administrative law, the course focuses on the sources, types and extent of administrative power, and the scope of judicial review (both in theory and practice) in a democratic state. The course takes into account the combined effect of the Constitution and legislation on administrative law. The second part of the course focuses mainly on the grounds of review which have been developed by the courts, most of which are found in s 6 of the Promotion of Administrative Justice Act.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Assessment during the year counts 40%; November examination (3 hour) 60%.

PBL4801F LAW OF EVIDENCE

18 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: S Lutchman and Professor PJ Schwikkard

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The aim of the course is to equip students with knowledge of the history and sources of the law of evidence; the rules for admissibility in the context of the relevancy requirement, such as character, similar fact and opinion evidence; rules excluding relevant evidence such as privilege and hearsay; detrimental statements such as confessions; kinds of evidence and presentation thereof; witnesses including their competence and compellability and calling of witnesses; proof without evidence; evaluation of evidence; and the standards and burdens of proof.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%; June examination (2 hour) 60%

PBL4802F CRIMINAL PROCEDURE

Final Level, half course, first semester, three lectures per week.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor J Omar

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

Criminal Procedure deals with the practice and procedure of the criminal process, from the police to the courts. Students are given concrete and topical examples in class, tutorials and assignments and are expected to apply their knowledge of general principles in a critical way, having regard to criminal justice and contemporary social justice imperatives. Students are challenged with legal and ethical dilemmas that they would confront in practical situations and are required to provide justiciable answers in conformity with ethics norms often informed by constitutional values. The course draws heavily on principles of criminal law, constitutional law as well as the law of evidence, to illustrate the interaction between adjectival and substantive law.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 40%, June examination 60%.

PVL4008H CIVIL PROCEDURE

Final Level, half course, two lectures per week.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor M Paleker

Course entry requirements: Successful completion of all Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses and in particular, family law, property law, contract law, and the law of delict.

Course outline:

Aims and objectives:

The aim of this course is to teach the rules and procedures that courts and litigants are obliged to follow when litigating different kinds of civil suits.

Course content:

The course covers the civil procedure of the High Court, the Magistrates' Court and the Small Claims Court. Accordingly, the following subject areas will be covered: Alternative dispute resolution, jurisdiction of the courts; locus standi; parties to proceedings; service of process; applications; actions; provisional sentence; matrimonial proceedings; legal drafting; and ethics. The course also covers broader access to justice issues and the impact of the Constitution on civil justice and civil justice reform.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: 50% Examination: 50%

Elective courses: Final Level

(All 9 NQF credits)

A candidate in the Final Level of the degree must choose elective courses totalling a minimum of 36 NQF credits. Two kinds of electives are on offer: lectures and examination electives and seminars and research paper electives. Every Final Level student must do at least one seminars and research paper elective, but any student may do an Independent Research Paper of 8000 words instead of the seminars and research paper elective.

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr H Stoop

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course will serve as a complement to the discussion on insurance in Commercial Transactions Law (CML4006W), for those with a deeper interest in the subject. Both capital and indemnity insurance will be discussed. The course seminars will focus on specific topics (which may vary from year to year) and will provide deeper context and detail on South African insurance law than there is time for in Commercial Transactions Law.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in lectures.

Assessment: Coursework 3000 word assignment (compulsory) 30%; Presentation on a topic of choice (voluntary) 20%; June examination 50% (if presentation) 70% (if no presentation).

CML4503F COPYRIGHT & PATENTS

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor L-A Tong

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course provides an introduction to two of the main intellectual property rights, namely copyright and patents. This is done primarily from a South African perspective. In addition to covering the principles of copyright and patent law, the course provides an opportunity for students to explore topical issues related to these intellectual property rights. The effect of intellectual property rights on access to medicines and educational materials, and the protection of traditional knowledge, are examples of such issues. Students are encouraged to also register for CML4504S Trade Marks & Unlawful Competition in order to gain a more comprehensive exposure to intellectual property law.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: 40%, 60% capstone assignment/examination

CML4504S TRADE MARKS & UNLAWFUL COMPETITION

Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week.

Convener: Associate Professor L-A Tong

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

66 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

This course provides an introduction to two of the key pillars in intellectual property law, namely trade marks and unlawful competition. It covers the principles of statutory trade mark law and explores various manifestations of unlawful competition, including passing off and the protection of confidential information. It also provides an opportunity for students to explore related topical issues, such as geographical indications, advertising, and domain names. Students are encouraged to also register for CML4503F Copyright & Patents in order to gain a more comprehensive exposure to intellectual property law.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: 40%, 60% capstone assignment/examination.

CML4506F TAX LAW A

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

Every area of the law affects understanding and practical application of tax law. The study of tax law is therefore introduced in the final stage of the LLB curriculum. Taxation is complex because it overlays all fields of the law, draws on other disciplines, transcends national borders, affects every commercial transaction and often influences societal behaviours.

This course introduces the subject of tax law. It seeks to illustrate the interrelation of tax law with other fields of law by focussing on primary themes and structural challenges faced by a tax system. In much of the coursework, the emphasis will be on the South African income tax. A selection of fundamental features of the South African income tax will be considered, mainly through critical evaluation of case law. Key jurisdictional concepts comprising the source and residence basis of income taxation will be considered. The course will analyse the statutory and jurisprudential frameworks for the determination of taxable income, including the notion of income, the distinction between capital and revenue receipts and the deductibility of expenditure and losses.

At the end of this course students are expected to be able to start to identify the broader relevance and impact of tax law

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: 30% (optional), Examination: 70%/100%

CML4507S TAX LAW B

(TBC) Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course builds on Tax Law A as a further introductory course for law undergraduates on the subject of tax law. The focus of the course is on legislation as the primary source of tax law. In much of the coursework, the emphasis will be on the South African income tax legislation. Because the focus is on legislation, the course is introduced by a recapitulation of the legal framework for statutory construction. Throughout the course, the emphasis will be on development of the competencies required to use revenue legislation in a responsible manner. A selection of features of the South African Income Tax Act, 58 of 1962, will be considered. The relevant provisions are categorised into those dealing with the main tenants of the taxation of individuals, companies and other vehicles such as trusts and partnerships. Selected issues affecting the taxation of corporate income will be considered. In addition, the legislation imposing tax on capital gains will be dealt with, in overview. The course is concluded by a consideration of the various common law and statutory measures that address tax evasion and tax avoidance. Brief consideration will be given to common legitimate tax planning techniques.

CML4510F CYBERLAW

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor T Schönwetter

68 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

Given the ubiquitous nature of digital technologies, and the complex legal issues that these technologies raise, it is imperative that the next generation of legal practitioners and scholars is properly prepared for these new realities. This course affects numerous areas of law and addresses the key legal issues related to digital technologies, including: electronic contracting, electronic evidence, cybercrime, data protection, consumer protection online, e-commerce & tax, electronic communications, IP in the digital realm, the liability of internet service providers, and the right to freedom of expression online. While emphasis is on South African law, the multi-jurisdictional dimension of the Internet digital technologies, especially the internet, requires that some attention is paid to other jurisdictions.

One important element of this course is to identify and examine issues that are of particular relevance for South Africans, such as mobile technology for accessing the Internet and the use of domestic digital services (such as 'mobile money'); access to information; the digital divide between those who have access to digital technology and those who don't; and developments in the area of cyberlaw in other African countries.

The course includes some computer skills instructions for technology tools that are available to lawyers and legal researchers.

CML4601F THEORY AND PRACTICE OF COMMERCIAL REGULATION AND GOVERNANCE

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor D Collier and Associate Professor K Idensohn

Course outline:

The regulation of commercial activities is seen as a necessary measure to manage risk and mediate the conflicting interests of parties. Increasingly however, formalistic legal (or state) regulation of commercial activities is under pressure to give way to 'softer' forms of governance. This course in regulation and governance introduces students to (i) basic economic perspectives on regulation and governance and global trends in this regard; (ii) basic sociological perspectives on the regulation of commercial activities; which will provide students with an understanding of various regulatory models – from the traditional command-and-control to more reflexive/responsive models – and will equip students with the tools to critique the contemporary regulatory regime and its impact on commercial activity.

CML4602S COMPETITION LAW

Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Judge D M Davis

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Co-requisites: This course requires a large measure of student participation. Class attendance is compulsory. Class participation takes the form of both group-work and individual presentations.

Course outline:

In this course we examine the regulation of competition under the 'new' Competition Act 89 of 1998. The focus of the course is on the statutory regulation of competition and the underlying policy considerations which the Act aims to address. In particular, we examine the practices that firms are prohibited from engaging in under the Act, and the way in which the Act regulates the merger of firms. The content of the Act has been heavily influenced by European and American Antitrust Law and practice. Since the South African competition authorities have not yet had an opportunity to develop an extensive jurisprudence of their own, we look to comparative sources for guidance as to how the Act might come to be interpreted and applied.

CML4603S BANKING LAW

(Not offered in 2022) Final level, half course, second semester.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

In the first half of the course students are introduced to the private law aspect of banking. The course will examine the concepts of money and payments by exploring both the traditional forms of payments to modern methods such as digital finance. The course also examines African banking concepts such as stokvels and credit-rotating associations, and critically analyse the greater need for financial inclusion in South Africa. In this section students are introduced to the different roles of banks including banks as intermediaries, banks as guarantors, and banks as lenders (domestically and in the international financial markets). This sections also focuses on the bank-customer relationship and bank liability arising out of contract, delict or enrichment. The second half of the course examines the regulation of the banking and finance sector by exploring key legislation such as the Banks Act, the Financial Advisory and Intermediary Services Act, the Financial Markets Act amongst many others. In this section students will be introduced to key theoretical concepts such as systemic risk. This part of the module will also examine South Africa's reform of the banking and finance sector towards Twin Peaks with focus on what is twin peaks and why is there a global trend towards twin peaks.

CML4629S LAW AND REGIONAL INTEGRATION IN AFRICA

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr G Mukundi and Dr V Amadi

Course entry requirements: None

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

This course provides a forum for students to study the ways in which the law has been utilised to shape and direct regional integration processes in Africa. The course starts with a discussion of theories of regional integration, followed by an overview of the historical trajectory of integration on the continent, with a focus on development integration. Its comparative dimension is directed at identifying and analysing strengths, weaknesses and challenges reflected in various regional efforts at integration on the continent, including the AU, SADC, EAC, ECOWAS, AMU, the Tripartite Free Trade Area (TFTA) as well as the proposed African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA). Furthermore, the role of regional institutions such as regional courts is discussed, along with relevant cases. Current regional integration issues worldwide constitute a vital context for class discussions. The course is delivered through a series of weekly seminars, with occasional guest lectures. Students' participation is essential and various avenues created for this purpose include group discussions, in-class review of literature, student presentations and simulation of a multilateral negotiation session. Students are expected to develop their presentations into a research paper under the supervision of the course conveners.

DOL4500F/S LEGAL PRACTICE

This course is capped at 40 students per semester.

Convener: Y Moodley

Course entry requirements: All preliminary courses to have been completed. Students are required to motivate by way of letter prior to registration why they want to work at the Clinic as the course cannot accommodate more than 40 students per semester due to capacity issues.

Course outline:

This course gives students an opportunity of working with real clients under the supervision of attorneys at the Law Clinic. Students attend lectures and clinics. There are two lectures per week on practical aspects of litigation. Students must attend 3 clinics per semester where they consult with prospective clients. Files will be opened upon instruction from supervising attorneys after a merit and financial assessment. Students assist with the files by consulting with clients, drafting letters, pleadings and notices; conducting research and communicating with clients to keep them abreast of progress in their matter. At the end of this course students will be able to conduct a consultation with a client; maintain a typical attorneys file; draft letters, notices affidavits; pleadings and a will. Students will also be taught trial advocacy through simulation.

DP requirements: Attendance at 85% of lectures; compulsory attendance at all 3 clinics and a minimum mark of 40% for Assignment 1

Assessment: Assignment 1: Mock trial / Assignment (if course is online): 40% Assignment 2: File Assessment: 60%

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor H Woolaver

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course provides students with a firm understanding of the key aspects of international criminal law, focusing on the impact and application of this body of law in the African continent. The first section of the course will provide an overview of the historical development of international criminal law, from its origins in the Nuremberg Tribunal, culminating in the establishment of the International Criminal Court. The second section of the course will examine the legal elements of the core international crimes: genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes, and the crime of aggression. Section three will provide an analysis of the modes of liability of international crimes, focusing on liability for the commission of group crimes and superior responsibility. The final section will detail the procedural aspects of enforcement, including jurisdiction of domestic and international courts and the issue of immunity of senior State officials. This section will emphasise prosecution of international crimes in the domestic courts of South Africa and will also consider the validity of domestic amnesty agreements for international crimes. Case studies throughout the course will be based on situations in the African continent, to draw out the particular challenges and possibilities for enforcement of international criminal law on the continent.

PBL4601S CONSTITUTIONAL LITIGATION

Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Judge D M Davis

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The object of this course is to gain greater insight into constitutional law by means of learning about litigation. The course focuses on one key area (for example in 1997 abortion was the chosen topic). The course examines key constitutional issues (eg. life, equality, privacy, dignity, bodily integrity) relevant to this issue. A study is also made of the rules of the Constitutional Court. Thereafter students are divided into legal teams and with assistance are required to prepare heads of argument as if the matter is to be heard before the Constitutional Court. The matter is then argued fully. In this way the critical principles of constitutional law and the requirements for constitutional litigation are taught.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: The mark is given for group work (to be negotiated with the class) based on heads of argument and oral argument.

PBL4602F CRIMINAL JUSTICE AND THE CONSTITUTION

Final level, first semester half course, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor J Omar

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course provides students with the opportunity to explore selected advanced issues in criminal justice, punishment and the manner in which the Constitution impacts the criminal justice system in the context of South Africa's socio, politico and economic history and the transition to democracy. Students will use the group discussions to develop research skills, including critical thinking and produce research papers. The course draws on principles of criminal law, constitutional law, the law of evidence and interacts with criminology.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at weekly seminars.

Assessment: Coursework - 20%; Research Paper 80%

PBL4604F SOCIAL JUSTICE AND THE CONSTITUTION

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor P de Vos

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The course is intended to give students an opportunity to engage with a number of discrete constitutional law problems in more detail than is possible in the general introductory Constitutional Law course offered in the preliminary year. The course is aimed at providing a space for contestation, critical discussion and reflection on important constitutional law issues and the manner in which lawyers, judges and legal academics engage with such issues against a broader socio-political background. Aiming to go beyond a black letter law discussion of constitutional law principles and legal precedent (but not ignoring such principles and precedent), the course encourages students to ask questions about the nature of constitutional adjudication; the interaction between law, politics and values; and the various ways in which social and political issues should be dealt with from a constitutional perspective.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Presentations by individual students in seminars 25%; End of semester essay 75%.

PBL4605F WOMEN AND LAW

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: N Luwaya

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The course aims to introduce students to literature and debates on the relationship between women and the law, allowing them to examine specific aspects of South African law in the light of feminist theory. In the seminars we consider feminist theories of law and the position of women in South African Law. For these seminars students are required to read and reflect on prescribed texts and participate in discussions. Attention is also paid to research skills and research methodology. Students can research a subject of their choice. Possible subjects include feminist and social theory; the constitutional protection of women; family law including divorce, maintenance, adoption and custody, abortion and surrogate motherhood; the law relating to violent crimes against women, including rape and domestic violence; employment law, including sex discrimination, equal pay, maternity benefits, sexual harassment and domestic workers; aspects of customary law; and the law governing censorship and pornography.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Reflection papers 10%; Presentation at symposium on women and law 10%; Research paper 80%.

PVL4504S SOUTH AFRICAN MINERAL LAW: THEORY, CONTEXT AND REFORM

Final Level, second semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H Mostert

Course entry requirements: PVL2002H (Law of Property) at Preliminary B level

Co-requisites: PBL4001W (Administrative Law)

Course outline:

In enabling the study of the theory and practice of mineral law, this course focuses on building understanding of the complexities of South African mineral law in its historical, constitutional and political setting. It introduces the topic by dealing with the origins and historical development of mineral law, and the core concepts thereof. It deals specifically with the nature and content of rights to minerals and the current regulatory framework for these rights. In doing so, it analyses critically the extent of current regulatory controls and / or lack thereof, focusing specifically on provisions dealing with social and environmental responsibility and the recording of rights to minerals. This allows students to gain a critical understanding of the practical context in which mineral law operates, and the need for reform.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: 100% continuous assessment.

PVL4505F THE LAW OF CESSION

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor T Naude

Course outline:

Law graduates entering legal practice (particularly in a commercial law firm) will find themselves immediately confronted with issues relating to the transfer of personal rights by cession. Most wealth today is held in the form of personal rights or claims against other parties (including banks, employers, investment and insurance companies, pension funds and the like) and much commercial activity concerns the transfer or pledging of such rights. The course aims to familiarise students with all aspects of the law of cession – a complex and challenging subject – to prepare them for commercial legal practice.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: Optional assignment 20%; Examination 100% if no optional assignment; 80% if optional assignment completed.

PVL4507F CONFLICT OF LAWS

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor A Barratt

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course introduces the rules and principles governing conflict of laws problems. For example: a South African testator bequeaths all his property to his mistress. He leaves nothing to his wife. This is permitted in terms of South African laws of succession. He and his wife were married in Scotland, and his widow argues that according to the Scottish law of marriage, she is entitled to a third of her husband's estate. Should a South African court apply the South African succession rule or the Scottish marital property rule? Meanwhile, the widow's sister publishes unflattering comments about the mistress on Twitter. The comments would be deemed defamatory in terms of South African law, but the sister lives in Malawi and the comments would not be considered defamatory in terms of Malawian law. Which rules of defamation should a South African court apply? In this course we examine the general principles governing application of foreign law and focus particularly on conflict of law questions arising in the context of contract, delict, property, succession, marriage, and divorce.

DP requirements: None

PVL4601S ADVANCED PROPERTY LAW: CAPITA SELECTA

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H Mostert

Course entry requirements: PVL2002H (Law of Property) at Preliminary B level. The course offers a comprehensive mentorship programme and is therefore capped at 15 students per year

Course outline:

This course aims to deepen LLB students' understanding of key aspects of property law, particularly expropriation law by enabling them to explore and specialise in topical areas of this field of study. The course covers the following: (i) the basic theories underlying expropriation law; (ii) the legislative framework governing expropriations; (iii) the importance and influence of the constitutional property clause in respect of the legislative framework; (iv) the various stakeholders impacted by expropriations; (v) the social and political considerations that inform this area, including land reform; (vi) the procedural requirements to effect a lawful expropriation. Upon completion of this course, students must demonstrate their ability to engage critically with an identified issue in expropriation law by researching independently, producing a written analysis, and presenting their findings orally.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework: 30%, research paper (5000 words) 70%.

PVL4602S CIVIL JUSTICE REFORM

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor M Paleker

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

Objective: The aim of the course is to consider contemporary debates in civil justice and civil justice reform and to engage with the different methods of civil dispute resolution.

Course outline:

This course will consider the theoretical and philosophical debates around access to civil justice. To this extent, the writings of the famous Venetian proceduralist, Prof Mauro Cappelletti, and many other jurists will be studied to give content to s 34 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996. Secondly, there will be an analysis of the strengths or weaknesses of the South African civil justice system, and how foreign jurisdictions have dealt with challenges in civil justice. For example, the Woolf reforms in England and Wales will be considered. Thirdly, different litigation models will be studied to understand the similarities and differences in adjudication styles between civil law and common law systems.

PVL4603F JURISPRUDENCE AND SOUTH AFRICAN LAW

Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A G Fagan and Dr L Boonzaier

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course aims to deepen LLB students' understanding of the nature of law, adjudication, and the relationship of morality and politics to each, by getting them to explore the implications of important debates in jurisprudence for various aspects of and issues in modern South African law. Questions arising in constitutional theory and the philosophical foundations of civil law, criminal law, and causation, for example, may be addressed.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Presentation of paper in a seminar 10%, Research paper of 5000 words 90%

PVL4604S RHETORIC, LAW AND SOCIETY

Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week in a single seminar session.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Distinguished Professor Ph-J Salazar

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed or being registered at least for a Honours degree or equivalent in another faculty.

Course outline:

The aims of this course are to: provide students with a basic introduction to the epistemological field of rhetoric studies and its relevance for legal studies in a constitutional society; develop an understanding of the ways in which rhetoric is a method through which power is exercised and dispersed in society; develop an understanding of how juridical rhetoric, specifically, influences and is influenced by the society in which it is advanced; enable students to detect and critically analyse the rhetorical aspects of social and political argumentation as they ultimately shape the law and perceptions of the law by the public. This course is a response to the need expressed at national level for providing law students with critical thinking instruments beyond pure juridical reasoning.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Seminar presentation 30%, Research paper of 5000 words 70%

PVL4605F LEGAL PLURALISM, RELIGION, CULTURE AND HUMAN RIGHTS

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor W Amien

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide an understanding of how pluralities of laws operate in South Africa at official and unofficial levels. By drawing on legislation and case law, attention is paid to historically marginalised religious, cultural and customary laws including personal and family laws emanating from (but not limited to) Islam, Hinduism, Judaism and traditional and non-traditional customary laws. Students are encouraged to consider how non-dominant systems of personal and family laws can be addressed within a secular legal framework and what the human rights implications of that are. The course comprises:

- (1) Theoretical foundations of legal pluralism
- (2) Selected religious, cultural and customary laws including (but not limited to) Islamic law, Hindu law, Judaic law and Customary laws
- (3) Manifestations of plural laws through religions, cultures, customs and secular laws in the private law domain including (but not limited to) marriage, divorce and succession
- (4) Models of recognition of religious, cultural and customary laws

(5) Human rights implications of official and unofficial application of religious, cultural and customary laws.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 30%, Research Paper 70%.

PVL4606F SPATIAL JUSTICE, UBUNTU AND THE NOMOS OF APARTHEID

(Not offered in 2022) Final Level, half course, first semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Prof AJ Barnard-Naudé

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The aim of the course is to introduce students to the spatial dimension of all law. The ancient Greek term for law in its concrete spatiality is 'nomos'. The course will illustrate how land-appropriation has been a fundamental dimension of the history of the nomos of the Earth as a planetary special order. Special attention will be given to the nomos of colonization, imperialism and apartheid. In the second part of the course, we focus on the post-apartheid spatial order and consider the continuations of, but also the breaks with, the nomos of apartheid. The Constitution, the National Development Plan and the Spatial Planning and Land Use Management Act will be critically examined. We ask after the extent to which the spatial legacy of apartheid has been displaced by transformative constitutionalism and we consider the persistent impediments (juridical, economic, political, psychological) to post-apartheid spatial equality in the context of the new climatic regime at the level of the planet, known as the Anthropocene. In conclusion, we critically consider the role of Ubuntu (as a juridical ethic) and social justice activism in the promotion and achievement of spatial justice

PVL4608S THE SOUTH AFRICAN LAW OF DELICT IN THEORETICAL AND COMPARATIVE PERSPECTIVE

Final Level, half course, second semester, two lectures per week.

9 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A G Fagan and Dr L Boonzaier

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary and Intermediate Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

This course aims to deepen LLB students' understanding of a core part of South Africa law, namely its law of delict, by getting them to explore its theoretical foundations and to compare it to the law of delict or tort in other legal systems (for example, English law or German law).

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Class participation 10%, Research paper (5000 words) 90%

Moot options

CML4606H	Moot Caput	Department of Commercial Law
PBL4606H	Moot Caput	Department of Public Law
PVL4609H	Moot Caput	Department of Private Law

Course outline:

The option of doing a moot is available in each department in the Faculty. Students should identify the department in which they wish to moot and may register for a moot only with the permission of a member of the department concerned. Usually departments will require at least two students before a moot option will be offered.

80 COURSE OUTLINES (LLB)

To complete a moot option successfully, students must submit adequate heads of argument and participate in moot proceedings presided over by more than one person, at least one of whom should not be a member of the Faculty.

Assessment: Heads of argument count for 100% unless the supervisor agrees to allocate a percentage of the mark to oral presentation. The percentage of the mark allocated to oral presentation may not exceed 50%.

Independent Research Paper electives

CML4401H	Commercial Law
PBL4401H	Public Law
PBL4402H	Criminal Justice
PVL4401H	Private Law

Course outline:

1. A student may do an Independent Research Paper instead of the seminars and research paper elective. Students prepare their papers by working individually under the supervision of a member of the Faculty.
2. Independent research papers should be about 8000 words in length.
3. The final title of research to be done under individual supervision of a member of staff must be approved by registration day.
4. All papers must be completed by the end of the mid-term vacation in the second semester of the final LLB year (i.e. mid-September).
5. Students may be expected to attend a number of general lectures on writing and structuring research papers at the start of the academic year.
6. Students may do more than one research paper (subject to the usual conditions). Each research paper counts 9 credits. All research papers must comply with the requirements for the research papers written in fulfilment of the Final Level research component of the LLB.

RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

The Faculty of Law at the University of Cape Town has been offering approved courses for Master of Laws, Master of Philosophy and Postgraduate Diploma purposes since the early 1980s.

In 1992 the School for Advanced Legal Studies (SALS) was created in the Law Faculty as the home for postgraduate courses and to advance further development of the postgraduate programme. Today, SALS is the home of all postgraduate students in the Law Faculty, whether they are registered for a coursework qualification or pure research degree. Many of the SALS offerings are complementary to the specialised research units located in the faculty. Its objectives extend to the promotion of research and academic exchanges with students and staff at other universities.

Support for Postgraduate Students

The Postgraduate Centre

The University's Postgraduate Centre is in the Otto Beit Building, Upper Campus. This state-of-the-art facility houses the executive committee of the Postgraduate Students Association (PGSA) as well as the Postgraduate Funding Office. The centre is equipped with IT facilities and includes a seminar room. This facility is open to all Master's and PhD students as well as postdoctoral research fellows. Postgraduates are encouraged to make full use of this centre, in particular the Funding Office, which administers all postgraduate bursaries and scholarships. The Postgraduate Centre may be visited at <http://www.students.uct.ac.za/students/fees-funding/postgraduate-degree-funding/contact>.

For further information on postgraduate studies at the University of Cape Town see <http://www.students.uct.ac.za/students/current-students/online-resources/postgraduate>.

General rules and requirements for the completion of degrees and diplomas

For LLM and MPhil purposes, students must select and complete four courses or their equivalent and submit a minor dissertation of not more than 25 000 words. Full-time students are expected to complete the requirements within an academic year (February to November or July to June), and part-time students are expected to complete the requirements within two years. However, the dissertation may be submitted by not later than the Friday before the first term starts in the year following the completion of the coursework for students who have completed their coursework in December and by 15 September of the same year for students who have completed their coursework in June.

For named LLM (Professional Master's degree) purposes, students must select and complete four courses or their equivalent and complete the four research tasks linked to those courses. Full-time students are expected to complete the requirements within an academic year (February to November or July to June), and part-time students are expected to complete the requirements within two years.

The Faculty of Law does not offer degrees for part-time study. The four taught courses of the LLM and MPhil programmes require 900 hours of work per annum when completed in an academic year (450 hours per annum when completed over two academic years). The 25 000 word minor dissertation requires 1200 hours of work. For the LLM (Professional Master's degree), four research tasks require up to 600 hours of work per annum when completed in an academic year (300 hours per annum when completed over two academic years). For the avoidance of doubt, "full-time" or "part-time" completion of degree requirements does not refer to part-time studying while also working. These terms refer to the period over which degree requirements need to be met.

For Postgraduate Diploma purposes, students must select and complete four courses.

Courses will typically involve between 3-4 contact hours per week, although teaching periods may vary from course to course. Details may be obtained from the course convener in each instance.

82 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

The minimum registration period for the PhD degree is two years and for the LLM by research, it is one year.

RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE QUALIFICATIONS

Postgraduate Diploma in Law

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

The following are the rules for all Postgraduate Diploma in Law programmes; additional rules applicable to certain Diplomas are included after these generally applicable rules.

FG1 The Faculty offers a Postgraduate Diploma in Law which is examined by coursework subject to these rules.

Specialist areas

FG2 The Postgraduate Diploma in Law may be conferred without specialisation ("General" below) or in any of the following specialist areas:

Specialisation	Academic Programme Code	Academic Plan Code
Criminology, Law and Society	LG002	PBL11
Dispute Resolution	LG002	CML11
Environmental Law	LG002	PBL04
General	LG002	PVL03
Labour Law (not offered in 2022)	LG002	CML07
Marine and Environmental Law	LG002	PBL07
Shipping Law	LG002	CML09
Tax Law	LG002	CML10

Rules regarding areas of specialisation, in addition to those below, appear in the Postgraduate Study Programmes section of this book.

Admission

FG3 A person may be considered for admission as a candidate for the Postgraduate Diploma in Law if:

1. he or she has a law degree of the University, or an equivalent degree of another university or institution recognised by Senate for this purpose;
2. he or she is a graduate of this University, or of any other university or institution recognised by Senate for this purpose, who has completed such course or courses as in the opinion of Senate on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law, qualify him/her for admission to the Diploma;
3. he or she is an enrolled advocate or attorney of the High Court of South Africa;
4. in the case of the Postgraduate Diploma in Law in Tax Law, a person who has passed the final professional chartered accountancy examination of the Public Accountants and Auditors Board of South Africa, or an examination which, in the opinion of the Board and of Senate, is of equivalent standard, or a Bachelor of Commerce graduate of the University who has completed a course in taxation;
5. With regard to the Postgraduate Diploma in Law in Shipping Law, and with reference to Rule FG3 above,

- a. In principle, a Master's certificate together with sufficient appropriate experience in the Shipping field, may serve as a ground for admission
 - b. the essential requirement for admission in the absence of a degree is the possession of sufficient appropriate experience in the field in question, whether evidenced by possession of a Master's certificate or not.
6. he or she holds any other academic or professional qualification which Senate has approved as a ground for admission to the Diploma; or
 7. a person who has satisfied Senate, by means of such test as may be prescribed, that his/her qualifications are equivalent to any one of those enumerated in FG3.1 - 3.5 above;
 8. in the case of an applicant whose primary language is not English, he or she has submitted evidence of proficiency in English of a sufficiently high standard to undertake postgraduate studies in Law. Evidence of proficiency may include one of the following:
 - a recent score (obtained within 3 - 5 years before application for admission) of at least 570 (paper-based test) or 230 (computer-based test) or 88 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
 - a recent overall band score of 7.0 (with no individual element of the test scoring below 6.0) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS)
 - a score of at least 75% on the Academic Literacy component of the National Benchmark Test (NBT).

An applicant may be required to pass a law-specific English proficiency test before being permitted to register in the Faculty.

Obtaining the diploma

FG4 A candidate must undertake advanced study in four approved courses (or the equivalent). A candidate must obtain at least 50% for each course.

Examination

FG5.1 A candidate may be required to submit prepared assignments, participate in debates or moots, and to undergo a written and/or oral examination in all or any of his/her approved courses.

FG5.2 A candidate who has failed any approved course with 47% or more has the right to an oral examination in that course.

FG5.3 Any such oral examination shall be convened upon a minimum of three days' notice given by the Faculty to the candidate, and shall be held at the Faculty in the presence of two examiners, one of whom shall be external to the course concerned, but who may be a member of the Faculty staff.

FG5.4 Supplementary examinations are not set for any of the approved courses.

Credit and exemption

FG6.1 Senate may accept examinations in an appropriate course of equivalent weight passed at this or another university recognised for the purpose of exempting a candidate from one course of the work prescribed in Rule FG4; provided that Senate may, in advance, approve an individual course or courses offered by another university, as a course which, if completed, will allow credit for and exemption from a course prescribed for the Postgraduate Diploma in Law. Such approval will be valid for one year but may be renewed on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law.

FG6.2 Notwithstanding Rule FG6.1, a candidate will not be admitted to the Diploma unless he or she has completed at least two courses at this University.

Exclusion from a course

Minimum requirements for readmission to the diploma

FG7.1 Senate may refuse readmission to a candidate who fails two courses, or the same course twice. For the purpose of this Rule, a 60-credit course shall be regarded as one course.

FG7.2 Should a candidate fail a course he or she may only continue by taking another course, unless Senate gives permission to repeat the course failed or study for a longer period.

Exclusion from the diploma

FG8.1 A candidate who fails two courses or the same course twice will not be allowed to reregister for any other Diploma course, except with the permission of Senate. For the purpose of this Rule, a double course shall be regarded as one course.

Duration

FG9 Except with the permission of Senate:

1. a full-time candidate must complete the approved coursework required for the diploma in one academic year (two courses per semester); and
2. a part-time candidate must complete the approved coursework required for the diploma within two academic years (one course per semester).

Distinction

FG10.1 The Diploma may be awarded with distinction.

FG10.2 For the Diploma to be awarded with distinction, a candidate must

- (a) complete the diploma within the prescribed period
- (b) obtain an average mark of at least 75%

Exemption from or modification of rules

FG11 Any exemption from or modification of these rules must be approved specifically by Senate.

Conversion to LLM degree

FG12.1 Provided they have a NQF Level 8 qualification, students registered for a PG Diploma who have completed two of the four courses for their PG Diplomas and obtained a mark of 65%, or above, for each of the two courses may convert their registration to an LLM registration, either by course work and minor dissertation or by coursework and research tasks.

FG12.2 The two credits completed towards the PG Diploma will be transferred as credits towards the LLM degree and students will have to complete two courses at Masters Level and the research component of the Masters Programme to which they have converted. (See notes 1-3 below.)

FG12.3 Students wishing to convert their registration must notify the Faculty Office of their intention to convert their registration by the first day of lectures in the semester following that in which they completed their first two courses. (See Note 4 below.)

Note 1

In the case of conversion to the LLM by coursework and research tasks, students will complete two research tasks linked to the Masters Level courses in the semester in which the student is registered for those courses, and will complete the remaining two research tasks linked to their transferred courses in the next semester in which the courses to which those research tasks are linked are presented.

Note 2

In the case of conversion to the LLM by course work and minor dissertation students will have to begin their minor dissertation in the second semester of the year of conversion of their registration and complete it in the first semester of the year following.

Note 3

In either instance, students registered full-time will take 18 months to complete their Masters' degree rather than the one year for their full-time PG Diploma.

Note 4

For students registered full-time from the beginning of the academic year, this would mean notifying the Faculty Office by the first day of lectures in the second semester that year. For students registered full-time who join the programme at the beginning of the second semester, this would mean notifying the Faculty Office by the first day of lectures in the first semester of the following academic year. For students registered part-time from the beginning of the academic year, this would mean notifying the Faculty Office by the first day of lectures in the first semester of the following academic year. For students registered part-time who join the programme at the beginning of the second semester, this would mean notifying the Faculty Office by the first day of lectures in the second semester the following year.

Master's degrees

Master of Laws (LLM) in approved courses and research tasks (Professional Master's degree)

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

FPM1 The Faculty offers a Master of Laws (LLM) degree which is examined by coursework and research tasks, subject to these rules. The named Professional Master's degrees are:

Qualification	Academic Programme Code
Master of Laws in Commercial Law	LM020
Master of Laws in Dispute Resolution	LM021
Master of Laws in Environmental Law	LM028
Master of Laws in Intellectual Property Law	LM022
Master of Laws in International Trade Law	LM023
Master of Laws in Labour Law	LM024
Master of Laws in the Law of Mineral and Petroleum Extraction and Use	LM030
Master of Laws in Marine and Environmental Law	LM029

86 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Master of Laws in Private Law and Human Rights (not offered in 2022)	LM027
Master of Laws in Shipping Law	LM025
Master of Laws in Tax Law	LM026

FPM2

A person may be considered for admission as a candidate for one of the named Professional Master of Laws degrees if

- 2.1 he or she has a law degree of the University or an equivalent degree of another University or institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
- 2.2 he or she has in any other manner attained a level of competence, which, in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.
- 2.3 in the case of an applicant whose primary language is not English, he or she has submitted evidence of proficiency in English of a sufficiently high standard to undertake postgraduate studies in Law. Evidence of proficiency may include one of the following:
 - a recent score (obtained within 3 - 5 years before application for admission) of at least 570 (paper-based test) or 230 (computer-based test) or 88 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
 - a recent overall band score of 7.0 (with no individual element of the test scoring below 6.0) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS)
 - a score of at least 75% on the Academic Literacy component of the National Benchmark Test (NBT).

An applicant may be required to pass a law-specific English proficiency test before being permitted to register in the Faculty.

Obtaining the degree

A candidate must undertake advanced study in four approved courses (or the equivalent) and complete four independent research tasks demonstrating innovation or professional expertise, each linked to one of the four approved courses undertaken.

The research tasks comprise a third of the total credits for the degree. The mark for the courses is the average of the marks obtained for the individual courses. To be awarded the degree a candidate must obtain a mark of at least 50% for each course and a mark of at least 50% for each research task.

A candidate may be required to submit prepared assignments, participate in debates or moots, and undergo a written and/or oral examination in all or any of his/her approved courses.

FPM3.3

A candidate who has failed any approved course with 47% or more has the right to an oral examination in that course.

FPM3.4

Any such oral examination shall be convened upon a minimum of three days' notice given by the Faculty to the candidate, and shall be held at the Faculty in the presence of two examiners, one of whom shall be external to the course concerned, but who may be a member of the Faculty staff.

FPM3.5

Supplementary examinations are not set for any of the approved courses.

FPM3.6

Should a candidate fail a course he or she may only continue by taking another course, unless Senate gives permission to repeat the course failed.

- FPM3.7 Each research task must be submitted for assessment by no later than the day on which examinations begin in the semester in which the course from which the research task is drawn runs.
- FPM3.8 Supplementary research tasks are not set for any of the approved research tasks.
- FPM3.9 Should a candidate fail an approved research task linked to an approved course that he or she has passed in a particular year, he or she may only repeat the task by registering for it in a subsequent year.

Credit and exemption

- FPM4.1 For the purpose of granting credit for and exempting a candidate from a maximum of two of the courses prescribed under FPM3, Senate may accept examinations in an appropriate course of equivalent weight passed at this or another university or institution recognised for this purpose; provided that Senate may, in advance, approve a course or courses, which, if completed successfully, will allow credit for and exemption from a course or courses prescribed for the degree. Such approval will be valid for one year but may be renewed on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law.
- FPM4.2 Where a candidate is granted credit for a course, or courses, the candidate will nevertheless have to complete a research task, or tasks, in an approved course, or approved courses, other than the courses for which the candidate is registered.
- FPM4.3 Notwithstanding Rule FPM4.1, a candidate will not be admitted to the degree in terms of Rule FPM3 unless he or she has completed at least the majority of the prescribed courses and the research tasks at this University.
- FPM4.4 Except with the permission of Senate, a student may not be granted credit towards the LL.M degree for courses successfully completed towards the Postgraduate Diploma in Law after the Diploma has been conferred on that student.

Minimum requirements for readmission

- FPM5 Senate may refuse readmission to a candidate who
- 5.1 fails two approved courses, or the same approved course twice. For the purposes of this Rule, a 60-credit course shall be regarded as one course.
 - 5.2 fails two approved research tasks, or the same approved research task twice.

Duration of programme

- FPM6 Except with the permission of Senate:
- 6.1 a full-time candidate must complete the approved coursework and research tasks required for the degree in one academic year (two courses and related tasks per semester); and
 - 6.2 a part-time candidate must complete the approved coursework and research tasks required for the degree within two academic years (one course and related task per semester).

Note:

- (a) The Faculty of Law does not offer degrees for part-time study.
- (b) The four taught courses of the programme require 900 hours of work

88 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

- per annum when completed in an academic year (450 hours per annum when completed over two academic years).
- (c) The four research tasks of the programme require up to 600 hours of work per annum when completed in an academic year (300 hours per annum when completed over two academic years).
 - (d) For the avoidance of doubt, “full-time” or “part-time” completion of degree requirements does not refer to part-time studying while also working. These terms refer to the period over which degree requirements need to be met.

Distinction

FPM7 The degree may be awarded with distinction.

- FPM8 For the degree to be awarded with distinction a candidate must:
- 8.1 complete the coursework in one year if full-time or in two years if part-time;
 - 8.2 submit the research tasks as per rule FPM3.7;
 - 8.3 not count work towards the degree in respect of work that he or she has completed towards another degree or diploma; and
 - 8.4 obtain an average mark of at least 75%.

Exemption from or modification of rules

FPM9 Any exemption from or modification of these Rules must be approved by Senate.

Note:

- (a) Courses on offer may be added to from time to time or a particular course may not be offered in a particular year.
- (b) Candidates for the degree must at the time of application indicate which courses they intend to pursue. Certain courses have distinct admission criteria so that admission to a named LLM programme does not necessarily signify acceptance for such courses. International students should note that some of the courses assume detailed knowledge of South African law as the basis for further study: it is therefore unlikely that they would be admitted to such a course unless they have been permitted to do so by the course convener.
- (c) The following general policy exists currently with regard to applicants: an applicant with an average of 70% will generally be granted admission, while an applicant with an average of between 60% and 69% will be subject to discretionary admission. Subsequent study and/or related work experience is a recommendation.

Master of Laws (LLM) in approved courses and a minor dissertation

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

FMC1 The Faculty offers a Master of Laws (LLM) degree which is examined by coursework and a minor dissertation, subject to these rules in particular.

Specialist areas

FMC2 The degree may be conferred without specialisation ("General" below) or in any of the following specialist areas:

Specialisation	Academic Plan Code	Academic Programme Code
		LLM MPhil
Commercial Law	CML01	LM003 LM002

Comparative Business Law in Africa	CML15	LM003	LM002
Constitutional and Administrative Law	PBL01	LM003	LM002
Criminology, Law and Society	PBL11	LM003	LM002
Dispute Resolution	CML11	LM003	LM002
Environmental Law	PBL04	LM003	LM002
General	PVL03	LM003	LM002
Human Rights Law	PBL05	LM003	LM002
Intellectual Property Law	CML13	LM003	LM002
International Law	PBL06	LM003	LM002
International Taxation	CML14	LM003	–
International Trade Law	CML06	LM003	–
Labour Law	CML07	LM003	LM002
Marine and Environmental Law	PBL07	LM003	LM002
Law of Mineral and Petroleum Extraction and Use	PVL11	LM003	LM002
Private Law and Human Rights (not offered in 2022)	PVL09	LM003	LM002
Public Law	PBL09	LM003	LM002
Shipping Law	CML09	LM003	LM002
Tax Law	CML10	LM003	LM002

The field of law in which the dissertation and three of the four courses of the degree have been fulfilled will determine the area of specialisation.

Admission

FMC3

A person may be considered for admission as a candidate for the degree of Master of Laws if

- 3.1 he or she has a law degree of the University or an equivalent degree of another University or institution recognised by the Senate for the purpose; or
- 3.2 he or she has in any other manner attained a level of competence, which, in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.
- 3.3 in the case of an applicant whose primary language is not English, he or she has submitted evidence of proficiency in English of a sufficiently high standard to undertake postgraduate studies in Law. Evidence of proficiency may include one of the following:
 - a recent score (obtained within 3 - 5 years before application for admission) of at least 570 (paper-based test) or 230 (computer-based test) or 88 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
 - a recent overall band score of 7.0 (with no individual element of the test scoring below 6.0) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS)
 - a score of at least 75% on the Academic Literacy component of the National Benchmark Test (NBT).

An applicant may be required to pass a law-specific English proficiency test before being permitted to register in the Faculty.

- 3.4 in the case of the Master of Laws specialising in International Taxation, a person who has passed the final professional chartered accountancy examination of the Public Accountants and Auditors

90 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Board of South Africa, or an examination which, in the opinion of the Board and of the Senate, is of equivalent standard, or a Bachelor of Commerce (Hons) (Taxation) or equivalent acceptable qualification or experience, as evidenced by a submitted portfolio of academic and practical experience, is required. Professional and/or academic references for all applicants may be requested. A curriculum vitae and academic transcript are required on application. An entrance examination or interview may be required.

Obtaining the degree

FMC4 A candidate must undertake advanced study in four approved courses (or the equivalent) and complete a minor research dissertation under the guidance of a supervisor appointed by Senate. A candidate must obtain at least 50% for each course and at least 50% for the minor dissertation.

Examination

FMC5.1 A candidate may be required to submit prepared assignments, participate in debates or moots, and undergo a written and/or oral examination in all or any of his/her approved courses and/or minor dissertation.

FMC5.2 The candidate must submit a minor dissertation of not more than 25 000 words on a subject approved by Senate which must be of legal interest and related to one of the approved courses.

FMC5.3 A candidate who has failed any approved course with 47% or more has the right to an oral examination in that course.

FMC5.4 Any such oral examination shall be convened upon a minimum of three days' notice given by the Faculty to the candidate, and shall be held at the Faculty in the presence of two examiners, one of whom shall be external to the course concerned, but who may be a member of the Faculty staff.

FMC5.5 Supplementary examinations are not set for any of the approved courses.

Credit and exemption

FMC6.1 For the purpose of granting credit for and exempting a candidate from a maximum of two of the courses prescribed under FMC4, Senate may accept examinations in an appropriate course of equivalent weight passed at this or another university or institution recognised for this purpose; provided that Senate may, in advance, approve a course or courses, which, if completed successfully, will allow credit for and exemption from a course or courses prescribed for the degree. Such approval will be valid for one year but may be renewed on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law.

FMC6.2 Notwithstanding Rule FMC6.1, a candidate will not be admitted to the degree in terms of Rule FMC4 unless he or she has completed at least the majority of the prescribed courses and the minor dissertation at this University.

FMC6.3 Except with the permission of Senate, no student may be granted credit towards the LL.M degree for courses successfully completed towards the Postgraduate Diploma in Law after the Diploma has been conferred on that student.

Date for submission of minor dissertation

FMC7.1 The proposal for the minor dissertation must be submitted to the supervisor no later than the time at which half the coursework requirements of the degree have been fulfilled.

- FMC7.2 Where a candidate intends to submit a dissertation for examination the candidate must inform the Faculty Office in writing of their intention to do so six weeks before submitting the dissertation for examination. It is recommended that the dissertation be submitted for examination five months before the graduation ceremony to allow time for the examination process to run its course. The Faculty does not however undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date. (See rule FMC11)

Exclusion from a course

Minimum requirements for readmission to the degree

- FMC8.1 A candidate must pass three of the four courses in order to qualify for readmission.
- FMC8.2 Should a candidate fail a course he or she may only continue by taking another course, unless Senate gives permission to repeat the course failed or study for a longer period.
- FMC8.3 A candidate who fails the minor dissertation may be permitted by Senate on one occasion only to submit another minor dissertation, which must be on a different topic.

Exclusion from the degree

- FMC9.1 A candidate who fails two courses or the same course twice will not be allowed to reregister for any other LLM course, except with the permission of Senate. For the purpose of this Rule, a double course shall be regarded as one course.
- FMC9.2 A candidate who fails the minor dissertation twice or does not submit the dissertation timeously, having been given an extension of time (see FMC7) will not be allowed to re-register for neither the Degree nor any further postgraduate study, except with the permission of Senate.

Duration of programme

- FMC10 Except with the permission of Senate:
- 10.1 a full-time candidate must complete the approved coursework required for the degree in one academic year (two courses per semester) and the dissertation in accordance with Rule FMC7; and
 - 10.2 a part-time candidate must complete the approved coursework required for the degree within two academic years (one course per semester) and the dissertation in accordance with Rule FMC7.

Note:

- (a) The Faculty of Law does not offer degrees for part-time study.
- (b) The four taught courses of the programme require 900 hours of work per annum when completed in an academic year (450 hours per annum when completed over two academic years).
- (c) A minor dissertation of 25 000 words on an approved topic requires 1 200 hours of work.
- (d) For the avoidance of doubt, “full-time” or “part-time” completion of degree requirements does not refer to part-time studying while also working. These terms refer to the period over which degree requirements need to be met.

92 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Minor dissertation

- FMC11 The minor dissertation must be satisfactory in arrangement and expression and must be typed and printed. Candidates are required to submit the final .pdf version for examination on PeopleSoft. The following statement must appear on the title page:
"Research dissertation presented for the approval of Senate in fulfilment of part of the requirements for the (qualification for which a student is registered) in approved courses and a minor dissertation." The other part of the requirement for this qualification is the completion of a programme of courses.
"I hereby declare that I have read and understood the regulations governing the submission of (qualification for which student is registered) dissertations, including those relating to length and plagiarism, as contained in the rules of this University, and that this dissertation conforms to those regulations."

Publication of minor dissertation

- FMC12 No publication may, without the prior permission of the University, contain a statement that the published material was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the degree.

Distinction

- FMC13.1 The degree may be awarded with distinction or with a distinction in the dissertation.
- FMC13.2 For the degree to be awarded with distinction a candidate must:
- 13.2.1 complete the coursework in one year if full-time or in two years if part-time;
 - 13.2.2 submit the minor dissertation no later than the Friday before the first term of the year following the completion of the coursework for students who have completed their coursework in December and 15 September of the same year for students who have completed their coursework in June;
 - 13.2.3 not be permitted to count work for which he or she may have been granted credit towards the degree in respect of work completed towards another degree or diploma; and
 - 13.2.4 obtain an average mark of at least 75%, the minor dissertation counting for 50% of the examination.
- FMC13.3 For the degree to be passed with a distinction in the dissertation, the candidate must:
- 13.3.1 complete degree in compliance with FMC13.2.1;
 - 13.3.2 submit the minor dissertation in compliance with FMC13.2.2;
 - 13.3.3 obtain a mark of at least 75% or higher for the dissertation.

Exemption from or modification of rules

- FMC14 Any exemption from or modification of the Rules for the LLM must be approved by Senate.

Note:

- (a) Courses on offer may be added to from time to time or a particular course may not be offered in a particular year.
- (b) Candidates for the degree must at the time of application indicate which courses they intend to pursue. Certain courses have distinct admission criteria so that admission to the LLM programme does not necessarily signify acceptance for such courses. Foreign students should note that some of the courses assume detailed knowledge of South African law as the basis for further study: it is therefore unlikely that they would be admitted to such a course.

- (c) The following general policy exists currently with regard to applicants: an applicant with an average of 70% will generally be granted admission, while an applicant with an average of between 60% and 69% will be subject to discretionary admission. Subsequent study and/or related work experience is a recommendation. For those with a BProc degree, an average mark greater than 70% is required, unless there is evidence of additional/subsequent work experience appropriate to the courses chosen.

Master of Philosophy (MPhil) in approved courses and a minor dissertation

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

- FMR1 The Faculty offers a Master of Philosophy degree which is examined by coursework and a minor dissertation, in the following circumstances:
- (i) where a law graduate wishes to pursue Master's level studies in law as well as in inter-Faculty cognate topics, such that the award of an LLM degree would be inappropriate; or
 - (ii) where a non-law graduate wishes to pursue Master's level studies either in law as well as in inter-Faculty cognate topics or entirely in law.

Specialist areas

- FMR2 The degree may be conferred without specialisation, in Law or in any of the specialist areas listed in Rule FMC2 above.

Admission

- FMR3 In addition to those who may be considered for admission as candidates for the LLM degree (see Rule FMC3.1 and FMC3.2 above), graduates with an Honours degree of the University or an equivalent degree of another university or institution recognised by Senate for this purpose may be considered for admission as candidates for a degree of Master of Philosophy.

In the case of an applicant whose primary language is not English, he or she must submit evidence of proficiency in English of a sufficiently high standard to undertake postgraduate studies in Law. Evidence of proficiency may include one of the following:

- a recent score (obtained within 3 - 5 years before application for admission) of at least 570 (paper-based test) or 230 (computer-based test) or 88 (Internet-based test) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL)
- a recent overall band score of 7.0 (with no individual element of the test scoring below 6.0) on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS)
- a score of at least 75% on the Academic Literacy component of the National Benchmark Test (NBT).

An applicant may be required to pass a law-specific English proficiency test before being permitted to register in the Faculty.

Further rules:

Rules FMC4 to FMC14 for the LLM degree (above) apply unchanged to the MPhil degree by coursework, except that 'MPhil / Master of Philosophy' is substituted for 'LLM / Master of Laws' where it appears.

Master of Laws (LLM) by dissertation

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

94 RULES FOR POSTGRADUATE PROGRAMMES

The Faculty offers a Master of Laws (LLM) degree which is examined by a dissertation, subject to these rules in particular. The degree may be conferred in any of the following specialist areas:

Specialisation	Academic Programme Code	Academic Plan Code
Commercial Law	LM001	CML01
Criminal Justice	LM001	PBL02
Private Law	LM001	PVL08
Public Law	LM001	PBL09
Rhetoric Studies	LM001	PVL10

Admission

- FMD1 A person may be considered for admission as a candidate for the degree of Master of Laws if
- 1.1 S/he has a law degree of the University or an equivalent degree of another University recognised by the Senate for this purpose; or
 - 1.2 S/he has in any other manner attained a level of competence which in the opinion of Senate, on the recommendation of the Faculty of Law, is adequate for the purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.

Note: Returning candidates must renew their registration by the stipulated registration dates every year. A late penalty fee is charged for registration after that date.

Obtaining the degree

- FMD2 Under the guidance of a supervisor appointed by Senate a candidate must undertake research at an advanced level for the purpose of writing a dissertation.

Examination

- FMD3 The examination consists of –
- 3.1 a dissertation on a subject of legal interest approved by Senate; or
 - 3.2 a series of (four) short dissertations on cognate areas of the law, approved by Senate.

Dates for submission

- FMD4 Where a candidate intends to submit a dissertation for examination the candidate must inform the Faculty Office in writing of their intention to do so six weeks before submitting the dissertation for examination. It is recommended that the dissertation be submitted for examination five months before the graduation ceremony to allow time for the examination process to run its course. The Faculty does not however undertake to reach a decision on the award of the degree by any specific date.

Written or oral examinations

- FMD5 A candidate may be required to undergo a written or oral examination on the subject matter of any dissertation.

Expected duration of the degree

- FMD6 A candidate is expected to complete the degree within two academic years.

The dissertation

FMD7 Dissertations may not exceed 40 000 words in length; they must be satisfactorily structured and formatted and they must be typewritten or printed. Candidates are required to submit the final .pdf version for examination on PeopleSoft.

Publication

FMD8 Without the prior permission of the University, no publication flowing from the dissertation may contain a statement that it was or is to be submitted in part or in full for the degree.

Distinction

FMD9 The degree may be awarded with distinction.

Note: Initial application for registration for this degree should be accompanied by a Statement of Interest set out according to the guidelines determined by the Faculty Higher Degrees Committee. These guidelines are obtainable from the Faculty Office. Before registration candidates may be required to undertake further work of a preparatory nature.

Master of Philosophy (MPhil) by dissertation

These rules must be read in conjunction with the general rules for degrees and diplomas in Book 3: General Rules and Policies.

The Faculty offers a Master of Philosophy (MPhil) degree which is examined by a dissertation, subject to these rules in particular. The degree may be conferred in any of the following specialist areas:

Specialisation	Academic Programme Code	Academic Plan Code
Commercial Law	LM011	CML01
Criminal Justice	LM011	PBL02
Private Law	LM011	PVL08
Public Law	LM011	PBL09
Rhetoric Studies	LM011	PVL10

Admission

FMP1 A person may be considered as a candidate for the degree of Master of Philosophy if:

- (i) S/he has at least a law degree or an Honours degree from the University, or an equivalent degree from another University recognised by Senate for this purpose; or
- (ii) S/he has in any other manner attained a level of competence which, in the opinion of Senate, on recommendation by the Faculty of Law, is adequate for purposes of admission as a candidate for the degree.

Note: Returning candidates must renew their registration by the stipulated registration dates every year. A late penalty fee is charged for registration after that date.

Obtaining the degree

FMP2 Under the guidance of the supervisor appointed by Senate a candidate must undertake research at an advanced level for the purpose of writing a dissertation.

Examination

FMP3 The examination consists of a dissertation or a series of short dissertations on cognate topics, on a subject of inter-faculty interest.

The topic

FMP4 Although the dissertation must have a law component, it also must be on a subject of inter-faculty interest.

Rules FMD4 to FMD9 apply also to candidates for the MPhil degree.

Doctoral degrees

Doctor of Laws (LLD)

NOTE: Until 2004 different rules applied to the award of this doctorate.

FD1 The Degree of Doctor of Laws may be obtained for a substantial body of work that has already been published. Such work must constitute an original contribution to, or an important advance on, knowledge in the subject. This degree is the senior doctorate in the Faculty of Law. It is awarded rarely, as a mark of respect, normally only for work undertaken over a period of many years which has established the candidate as the leading authority in his or her field, and where the candidate has had a substantial and long association with the University.

FD2 The rules for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, other than the admission rules, and the rule regulating the standing required prior to admission, apply mutatis mutandis.

Application for admission

FD3 Application for the LLD degree is governed by procedures set out by the Doctoral Degrees Board of the University.

Note:

A copy of these procedures is obtainable from the Faculty Office. They include the following rules:

- (i) the candidate must provide copies of the body of work, as specified by the Higher Degrees Committee,
- (ii) a preliminary screening procedure must be undertaken by a Committee of Assessors, appointed by the Doctoral Degrees Board, to consider whether the work is of the standard and maturity required for this senior Doctorate, and
- (iii) registration and examination will take place only when the Doctoral Degrees Board has accepted the application, and only after receiving the opinion of the Committee of Assessors.

Requirements for award of the degree

FD4.1 A candidate must submit published work in an area of law which must constitute a substantial, original and important contribution to the current body of scholarship. The candidate may submit other published and unpublished work as collateral testimony of fitness for the degree.

FD4.2 No work will be accepted which has been accepted by this or any other University for the purpose of obtaining a degree.

FD4.3 The examination will consist primarily of an assessment of the published work, but, if required by Senate, candidates must present themselves for an additional written or oral examination on the subject of the work presented.

Doctor of Philosophy (PhD)

The Faculty offers a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) degree which is examined by a thesis. The degree may be conferred in any of the following specialist areas:

Specialisation	Academic Programme Code	Academic Plan Code

Master's Study Programmes (excluding Professional Master's)

Teaching contact periods vary from course to course: details must be obtained from the course convener in each instance. Because of the wide range of courses on offer, a draft timetable is drawn up for each semester. This might mean that certain combinations of courses are not possible, although the School for Advanced Legal Studies (SALS) will try to accommodate as much freedom of choice as possible. Please consult the timetable when choosing courses.

Registration for courses that are concurrently presented in any manner is not allowed.

Various groupings of subjects are set out below as 'programmes', as the issues which are dealt with form a coherent whole. If a student elects such a 'programme', he or she will be awarded with the degree in the specialist area concerned. Please refer to the Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees for further information.

The following programmes are described:

Commercial Law
Comparative Business Law in Africa
Constitutional and Administrative Law
Criminology, Law and Society
Dispute Resolution
Environmental Law
Human Rights Law
Intellectual Property Law
International Law
International Taxation
International Trade Law
Labour Law
Law of Mineral and Petroleum Extraction and Use
Marine and Environmental Law
Private Law and Human Rights (not offered in 2022)
Public Law
Shipping Law
Tax Law

This does not mean that the courses listed under specific 'programme' headings may not freely be chosen as part of a 'general' diploma/degree, or as components of a field of study (e.g. commercial law) which is wider than a 'programme' but narrower than 'general'.

CML4661F GENERAL TAX LAW PROVISIONS

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The objective of this semester course is to nurture tax lawyers and to provide non-lawyers with an insight into tax law and the rights of taxpayers in regard to liability for taxation. The focus of the course is on the general framework for imposing income tax in South Africa, as pronounced upon by the courts. The outline of the course comprises a selection of fundamental features of the South African income tax, mainly through critical evaluation of case law. Key jurisdictional concepts comprising the source and residence basis of income taxation will be considered in detail. The course will analyse the statutory and jurisprudential frameworks for the determination of taxable income, including the notion of income, the distinction between capital and revenue receipts and the deductibility of expenditure and losses. Tax law impacts the life of every citizen and is often political. At the end of this course students are expected to be able to start to identify the broader relevance and impact of tax law. This course provides a basic entry point for further postgraduate study of tax law.

DP requirements: Further tests may be scheduled at the discretion of the convener. Satisfactory attendance at lectures.

CML4661S SPECIFIC TAX LAW PROVISIONS

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor J Hattingh

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course builds on the first semester course 'General Tax Law Provisions' as a further introductory course for postgraduate studies on the subject of tax law. The objective of this semester course is to nurture tax lawyers and to provide non-lawyers with an insight into tax law and the rights of taxpayers in regard to liability for taxation. The focus of the course is on legislation as the primary source of tax law, specifically those aspects of South African income tax legislation that are likely to remain fundamental to the South African system of imposing income tax, as pronounced upon by the courts. The outline of the course is as follows. Because the focus is on legislation and non-lawyers may participate, the course will be introduced by a recapitulation of the legal framework for statutory construction. Throughout the course, the emphasis will be on development of the competencies required to use revenue legislation in a responsible manner. A selection of features of the South African Income Tax Act, 58 of 1962, will be considered. The relevant provisions are categorised into those dealing with the main tenants of the taxation of individuals, companies and other vehicles such as trusts and partnerships. Selected issues affecting the taxation of corporate income will be considered. In addition, the legislation imposing tax on capital gains will be dealt with, in overview. The course is concluded by a consideration of the various common law and statutory measures that address tax evasion and tax avoidance, including consideration of legitimate tax planning techniques.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Coursework 20% (optional), Examination 80% or 100%.

CML4662F TAX TREATY LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor J Hattingh

Course entry requirements: See Rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with an understanding of international tax law, with particular emphasis of international tax law in the African context. The course will cover, inter alia, trading into and out of South Africa, methods of relieving international double taxation, the interpretation and application of double taxation conventions, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development's (OECD) Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital, the United National Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital, the allocation of taxing liability of various forms of income, international tax avoidance including transfer pricing and thin capitalisation and exchange control.

DP requirements: Further assessments may be scheduled at the discretion of the course convener.

CML4662S TAX POLICY IN A DEVELOPMENTAL CONTEXT

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course entry requirements: See Rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The objective is to provide students with the opportunity to apply their knowledge of tax policy to practical examples of real-world instances of choices made in tax laws. The aim is to produce graduates who are able to evaluate existing tax policies; provide a likely rationale for why tax laws are the way they are; and propose changes to laws so that they more fit for purpose. Tax law as an area of both practice and academic study is characterised by regular, frequent and often significant change. This chosen teaching method accordingly recognises that deep learning of tax policy theory would be facilitated by a practical application of such theory to real-world instances where tax policy choices are made by governments.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Examination 100%.

CML4671F NEGOTIATION

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

CML4676S WORKPLACE DISCRIMINATION AND EQUALITY LAW

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor D Collier

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The course aims to examine the constitutionally embedded concept of substantive equality in the context of the South African labour market and workplace. The regulation of employment discrimination and affirmative action, which pivots around the provisions of the Employment Equity Act of 1998, will be explored through the lens of South African case law, alongside an examination of selected theoretical and sociological perspectives, and comparative developments, on equality and discrimination. The course will provide students with the necessary skills to deal with discrimination problems that may arise in the workplace, including harassment and discrimination on the basis of race, sex and gender.

CML5619F LAW OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Dr K Lehmann

132 COURSE OUTLINES (POSTGRADUATE)

Course entry requirements: An LLB from UCT or the equivalent legal qualification from a recognised university.

Course outline:

Law of International Trade examines the public law aspects of international trade, the international regulatory framework within which private traders operate, concentrating on the law and practice of the World Trade Organisation (WTO). We will consider the purpose of trade, why it is that the WTO is considered the most successful of international organisations, and why it is that the WTO continues to attract controversy and criticism. In answering these questions, we will consider select WTO agreements to provide insights into both what the law says and how the law impacts on states and private actors within those states. The purpose of the course is to provide students with some 'technical' understanding of the WTO as an institution, and to provide students with the tools to critically evaluate whether the WTO is meeting its worthy objectives as set in the Agreement establishing the WTO, including raising living standards, ensuring full employment, optimising the use of the world's resources in accordance with the principle of sustainable development, and ensuring that developing countries, especially LDCs, secure a share in the growth of international trade commensurate with their economic needs. This is not an economics course, and we cannot assess the economic case for free trade. Instead, as lawyers, we will examine the law and jurisprudence of the WTO, to assess to what extent the laws themselves allow for free and fair trade.

CML5661F GENERAL TAX LAW PROVISIONS

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course outline:

The objective of this semester course is to nurture tax lawyers and to provide non-lawyers with an insight into tax law and the rights of taxpayers in regard to liability for taxation. The focus of the course is on the general framework for imposing income tax in South Africa, as pronounced upon by the courts. The outline of the course comprises a selection of fundamental features of the South African income tax, mainly through critical evaluation of case law. Key jurisdictional concepts comprising the source and residence basis of income taxation will be considered in detail. The course will analyse the statutory and jurisprudential frameworks for the determination of taxable income, including the notion of income, the distinction between capital and revenue receipts and the deductibility of expenditure and losses. Tax law impacts the life of every citizen and is often political. At the end of this course students are expected to be able to start to identify the broader relevance and impact of tax law. This course provides a basic entry point for further postgraduate study of tax law.

DP requirements: Further tests may be scheduled at the discretion of the convener. Satisfactory attendance at lectures.

CML5661S SPECIFIC TAX LAW PROVISIONS

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

Convener: Professor J Hattingh

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil degrees. A student is not permitted to register for this course unless he or she has either completed General Tax Law Provisions (CML5661F) or, in the opinion of the course convener(s), otherwise has sufficiently sound academic background in tax law, such as a postgraduate qualification in tax law and/or sufficient appropriate experience in the field of taxation

Course outline:

This course builds on the first semester course 'General Tax Law Provisions as a further introductory course for postgraduate studies on the subject of tax law. The objective of this semester course is to nurture tax lawyers and to provide non-lawyers with an insight into tax law and the rights of taxpayers in regard to liability for taxation. The focus of the course is on legislation as the primary source of tax law, specifically those aspects of South African income tax legislation that are likely to remain fundamental to the South African system of imposing income tax, as pronounced upon by the courts. The outline of the course is as follows. Because the focus is on legislation and non-lawyers may participate, the course will be introduced by a recapitulation of the legal framework for statutory construction. Throughout the course, the emphasis will be on development of the competencies required to use revenue legislation in a responsible manner. A selection of features of the South African Income Tax Act, 58 of 1962, will be considered. The relevant provisions are categorised into those dealing with the main tenants of the taxation of individuals, companies and other vehicles such as trusts and partnerships. Selected issues affecting the taxation of corporate income will be considered. In addition, the legislation imposing tax on capital gains will be dealt with, in overview. The course is concluded by a consideration of the various common law and statutory measures that address tax evasion and tax avoidance, including consideration of legitimate tax planning techniques.

This course provides a forum for students to study the ways in which the law has been utilised to shape and direct regional integration processes in Africa. The course starts with a discussion of theories of regional integration, followed by an overview of the historical trajectory of integration on the continent, with a focus on development integration. Its comparative dimension is directed at identifying and analysing strengths, weaknesses and challenges reflected in various regional efforts at integration on the continent, including the African Union (AU), Southern African Development Community (SADC), East African Community (EAC), Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS), and the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA). Current regional integration issues worldwide constitute a vital context for class discussions. The course is delivered through a series of weekly seminars, with occasional guest lectures. Students' participation is essential and various avenues created for this purpose include group discussions, literature review panels, student presentations and simulation of a negotiation session.

CML5665S TAX POLICY IN A DEVELOPMENTAL CONTEXT

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil degrees.

Course outline:

This course is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of the factors that influence the choice of tax laws. This course is focused on gaining a better understanding of the tax policy decision-making process that is peculiar to developing world, and the factors that influence developing nations as they determine their tax policies. In doing so, students will consider what the tax laws are now and what they should be. Tax policies cannot be created in isolation from the rest of the world. The course therefore also considers the international tax aspects that influence the design of a tax system in general, and tax policies in particular. This course is intended for anyone interested in the design of tax systems in the modern world. It could also be taken as a 'general interest' course and would be useful to anyone aspiring to work in public policy or government.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Examination 100%.

CML5665X TAX POLICY - RESEARCH TASK

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

15 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor A Titus

Course outline:

The objective is to provide students with the opportunity to apply their tax knowledge to practical problem-type assignments, and in so doing, deepening their understanding of the factors which influence the choice of tax laws. The research task is designed to engage students by bringing theoretical discussions of tax policy into the real world. Specifically, the research task is intended to expose students to the political and legal aspects of taxation, to introduce research skills, and to provide opportunities for students to develop professional and technical communication skills.

Assessment: A research task of a professional nature.

CML5666F COMPARATIVE LAW AND BUSINESS IN AFRICA

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Ordor and Dr V Amadi

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil degrees.

Course outline:

The aim of the course is to provide a platform for learning the plural and multiple legal frameworks for the conduct of business in different parts of the African continent - within and between countries and regions. These legal frameworks are shaped by various legal traditions such as common law, civil law, international law, but also religious and customary principles. At the regional level, the course examines the combination of regional instruments that regulate trade in and between Africa's regional economic communities, including the Southern African Development Community (SADC), the East African Community (EAC), the Economic Community of West African States (ECOWAS) and others. These discussions also consider parallel normative systems that support informal commerce, including informal cross-border trade. This is an important consideration for the development of the African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA). Students should emerge from this course with a spectrum of competencies that reflect a firm grasp of the legal instruments that regulate intra-African trade, skill in analysing the combination of sources of business law that apply both at regional and country level and an increased understanding of the role of law in advancing economic integration on the continent.

CML5667S CORPORATE LAW AND GOVERNANCE

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor J Yeats

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil degrees.

Course outline:

Corporate Governance is currently one of the most relevant and topical growth areas in commerce. Knowledge and an understanding of Corporate Governance principles and how to apply these in practice is a very relevant and sought after skill for legal and professional advisors as well as management and board members. This course will develop academic and professional proficiency in the principles and policies which underpin Corporate Governance in South Africa, Africa and other selected international jurisdictions. Students will engage in the critical study and analysis of the complex issues and tensions which arise in this context and develop a thorough understanding of the applicable regulatory frameworks as well as the relevant legal principles and debates. Some of the teaching and learning will take place through the use of detailed case studies drawn from real corporate scenarios and dilemmas. These guided in-class debates and discussions will enable students to cultivate the skills and knowledge to confidently and effectively apply the relevant legal principles and regulatory codes to Corporate Governance problems and challenges which may arise in the public or private sector. This course complements Advanced Company Law (CML5601F) and/or Company Law, Corporate Governance and Labour Law (CML5692F) well, but neither of these is a prerequisite for taking Corporate Law and Governance, nor is any prior study or knowledge of Corporate Governance required from students in order to register for this course.

CML5687S CHINESE LAW AND INVESTMENTS IN AFRICA

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Ordor and T Lefifi

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

People's Republic of China (PRC) has become Africa's leading trade and investment partner. Chinese presence has significant impact on Africa's economic and policy development. Knowledge of Chinese law is a valuable resource for postgraduate law students, business people and legal professionals who want to understand and navigate China's emerging role in Africa's economy.

This course is designed to familiarise students with various aspects of Chinese business law and international investment policies. On completion, the student will emerge with a balanced and broad outlook on legal aspects of doing business with China, in China and Africa, as well as a projection of future developments.

Starting with a brief overview of Chinese legal systems, rule of law and institutions, the course examines key current trends related to Chinese business and commercial law as follows: legal and state enterprises reforms, intellectual property law, settlement of commercial disputes in China, company law, legal culture and case analysis. Thereafter the focus is directed at Chinese investment in Africa and legal co-operation under the Forum on China-Africa Co-operation (FOCAC) and China's Policy for Africa. Finally, the course explains China's working foreign investment approval processes and authorities, as they relate to outbound investments.

CML5691S INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW, DEVELOPMENT AND INNOVATION

Higher postgraduate course, second semester. One double lecture (3 hours) per week or two intense weeks of lectures, or a combination of these.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor T Schönwetter

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees. Students who have not studied Intellectual Property law at tertiary level or who do not have adequate work experience in Intellectual Property may be required to complete an introductory workshop course (which may be held over a weekend).

Course outline:

This course examines the relationship between intellectual property rights and development by examining the ways in which the former either promotes or stifles the latter. It considers the tensions between patents, copyright and other intellectual property rights as drivers of innovation and creativity versus the potential harm they may have on development.

The topics will be prescribed from year to year and may be chosen from the following, amongst others: technology transfer and innovation; publicly financed development of intellectual property; copyright and access to knowledge and education; traditional knowledge and traditional cultural expressions; patents and genetic resources, access to health, and food security, and trademarks and geographical indications.

Students are advised to contact the course convener at the start of the relevant semester for an indication of the specific topics to be presented.

CML5692F COMPANY LAW, CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LABOUR LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester. One double lecture (3 hours) per week.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor J Yeats and Dr E Fergus

Course entry requirements: The course pre-supposes a thorough knowledge and understanding of South African Company Law and Labour Law at LLB level or the equivalent. Students who do not have this qualification should not attempt this course. However, in extremely limited circumstances, and at the sole discretion of the course convener(s), students may be admitted on the basis of alternative qualifications or work experience. Such applications will only be considered if supported by a detailed written motivation accompanied by relevant documentation.

Course outline:

This course straddles and links Company Law and Labour Law by fostering an understanding of Corporate Governance and its underlying philosophies. It introduces a fresh perspective on the relationship between commerce and labour which have historically been cast as adversaries. The role of Corporate Governance in reversing that approach, and the value of doing so for companies themselves, is emphasised. The course may include a study of the Corporate Governance requirements and other relevant legal obligations with reference to inter alia the Companies Act, the King Report, international best practice, the JSE Listings requirements, the Insolvency Act, case law and common law. These Company Law and Corporate Governance rules, principles and policies are then applied and examined through the specific lens of Labour law. In considering selected corporate actions and events, the interactions between Company Law, Corporate Governance, Labour Law and selected aspects of other laws (including for example, Insolvency Law, Contract Law, International Trade Law, Trust Law and Competition Law) are discussed. Here, the need for meaningful Corporate Governance (rather than mere formalistic compliance with its tenets) will be debated, with particular reference to labour relations and the value of doing so for a company's profit objectives.

Higher postgraduate course, second semester. This course will be taught in the Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Paterson and A Mkhonza

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The course will cover the major sources of international environmental law, with particular emphasis on their actual or possible application to South Africa and the African continent as a whole. The course will cover both terrestrial and marine components and will include principles of international customary law relevant to the environment; terrestrial conventions relating to trans-boundary movement and disposal of waste; conventions on HNS and nuclear matters; conventions relating to atmospheric pollution and climate change; conventions relating to the conservation of nature, including biodiversity and conventions on cultural heritage.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 50%, Examination 50%.

PBL4623F GOVERNING UNDER THE CONSTITUTION: LAW AND PRACTICE

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor P de Vos

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

South Africa's new Constitution sets out the rights of citizens and establishes a framework for democratic governance and local government. In developing these institutions, along with a multi-level system comprising national, provincial and local government, South Africa's constitutional designers were responding to the needs and aspirations of contemporary South Africa. But they, in light of this comparative experience, also had before them a rich array of alternatives from other countries. The central purpose of this course is to seek to understand the new framework for governance in South Africa.

Constitutions are complex mixtures of broad principles, and specific rules and institutions. Accordingly, we will be interested in two levels of analysis: first, what broad principles and values underpin the institutional framework, and how are these expressed in the institutions themselves? And, second, more practically, how do these institutions, and the interactions among them, actually work in shaping the process of policy-making and implementation? Thus, we are interested in the values associated with democracy – participation, accountability, consensus, etc; and in those associated with what might be called 'effective governance', in light of the policy challenges which face the country.

The course will thus also provide you with an understanding of how government works with a focus on (i) the relationship between the executive and the legislature and what that means for lawyers and (ii) the relationship between national, provincial and local government. Our study of multi-level government and the powers of each sphere of framework necessary for policy making and litigation in this area.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 30%, Examination 70%.

PBL4631F INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor W Amien

154 COURSE OUTLINES (POSTGRADUATE)

Course entry requirements: For both course codes (PBL4631F and PBL5631F), priority will be given to LLM, MPhil and PGDip students specialising in Human Rights Law. Applications by students who are not specialising in Human Rights Law will be considered on a case by case basis subject to receiving written motivations by students that are no longer than one page, their curriculum vitae and academic transcripts. In respect of the latter category of students, criteria for consideration include among others, academic merit and exposure to human rights (through completed courses and/or work experience).

Course outline:

This is a seminar- and research-based course, which aims to encourage engagement with questions and issues that arise within the context of international human rights law. In particular, the course aims to provide an understanding of the international and regional frameworks that seek to protect and promote human rights. This includes a consideration of the mechanisms that have been established to realise protection of human rights at the international and regional levels. The course covers

- (a) The jurisprudential and philosophical bases of human rights
- (b) The various institutions through which human rights are protected at international and regional levels
- (c) International and regional human rights standards
- (d) The implementation of human rights standards
- (e) Specific topics in international and regional human rights law

PBL4640F PRINCIPLES OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester. This course will be taught in the Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Paterson

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course provides a comprehensive introduction to environmental law. It covers the following main content: historical overview of the development of environmental law; ethical basis for environmental law; the nature, scope and sources of environmental law; the relationship between constitutional rights (environmental rights, administrative justice, access to information, locus standi) and environmental law; environmental governance; the role of common law; and the main legal tools prevalent in environmental laws such as planning measures, institutional arrangements, permitting measures, EIA, civil measures, administrative measures, criminal measures, voluntary measures and incentive-based measures. As South Africa has one of the world's most contemporary environmental legal regimes, it will be used as a case study throughout the above components. Given the all-pervasive nature of environmental law, the issues covered in this course are of relevance to all domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector. Furthermore, given the contemporary nature of South Africa's environmental regime, the course is of key relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic environmental regimes.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation in class seminars and submission of course assignment.

PBL4641F LAND USE PLANNING LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester. This course will be taught in the Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor A Paterson

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas. The student must have completed or be simultaneously completing Principles of Environmental Law or have the prior written consent of the convener.

Course outline:

One of the key ways to govern the impact of society on the environment is through regulating land use and planning. Land use planning law came into being at the beginning of the twentieth century but environmental law was superimposed on it towards the end of the twentieth century. The past few decades have accordingly seen a significant shift in the array and nature of regulatory tools planning authorities have sought to use to achieve a balance between the dictates of development and environmental protection. Key planning tools which are inherent in domestic legal frameworks include: integrated development planning; future spatial planning; zoning schemes; subdivision; title deed restrictions; environmental impact assessment; the designation of protected areas; and in the context of coastal management, integrated coastal planning. This course aims to critically examine the nature of these various planning tools. South Africa's domestic regime is used as a case study through which to explore their practical application. These land-use and planning tools are of relevance to every landowner and the course is accordingly of relevance to domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector. Furthermore, given the contemporary nature of South Africa's environmental impact assessment, coastal planning and protected areas regimes in particular, the course is of key relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic land-use and planning regimes.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation in class seminars and submission of course assignment.

PBL4642S NATURAL RESOURCES LAW

Higher postgraduate course, second semester. This course will be taught in the Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Mkhonza

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas. The student must have completed Principles of Environmental Law or have the prior written consent of the convener.

Course outline:

This course examines the domestic legal frameworks which have emerged to regulate the use and conservation of natural resources such as: biological resources; fresh water resources; marine resources; mineral and petroleum resources; energy resources; agricultural resources; and heritage resources. These legal frameworks prescribe an array of tools including: institutional arrangements; planning schemes, permitting regimes; duties of care; incentive-based measures; civil liability measures; and criminal measures. The course is of relevance to domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector and of key comparative relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic natural resource regime.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation in class seminars and submission of course assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 50%, Examination 50%.

PBL4643S POLLUTION LAW

Higher postgraduate course, second semester. This course will be taught in the Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: A Mkhonza

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas. The student must have completed Principles of Environmental Law or have the prior written consent of the convener.

Course outline:

156 COURSE OUTLINES (POSTGRADUATE)

This course examines the domestic legal frameworks which have emerged to regulate land, air and water pollution. These legal frameworks prescribe an array of tools including: institutional arrangements; planning schemes; pollution standards; permitting regimes; trading schemes; duties of care; emergency incident provisions; strict liability; statutory nuisances; rehabilitation orders; incentive-based measures; civil liability measures; and criminal measures. The course is of relevance to domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector and of key relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic pollution regimes.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation in class seminars and submission of course assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 50%, Written examination 50%.

PBL4658S ADMINISTRATIVE JUSTICE AND OPEN GOVERNMENT

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: N Ally

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas. Competent academic and/or practical knowledge of South African and/or common-law based administrative law. Those without a formal qualification in law will be admitted at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

There is no doubt that the organisational complexity of a modern democratic state demands of its executive branch that it be sophisticated, efficient, open and accountable. Most of such administrative process must be based on discretionary power in the hands of public officials. The challenge is to fashion legal rights, duties and procedures so that the subject has remedies to confront the abuse of public power, while leaving the executive sufficient space to govern legitimately. South African administrative law is relatively undeveloped when compared with similar legal systems, yet it faces greater demands than exist in most countries. This is particularly the case as the Constitution develops to accommodate changing political reality. This course intends to enable students to become familiar with a responsive package of legal institutions and rules to regulate the administration. Current administrative law will be examined critically, with substantial reference to the way in which the law has developed in other jurisdictions, particularly in the British Commonwealth. The feasibility and form of constitutional protection of the right of access to information and of open government will receive considerable attention, in the context of the exponential increase in legal protection at both international and national level for ATI in the past 15 years, and the emerging new academic literature on ATI. While the course will be critical and forward-looking, it will naturally involve a detailed knowledge of current law and practice, equipping students to be practitioners in the forefront of developments in this field. Several guest lecturers will participate in the course while Associate Professor R Calland will lecture on open government.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in seminars and completion of assignments.

Assessment: An essay and an assignment count for 40%; long paper or written examination counts for 60% of the final grade.

PBL4659S HUMAN RIGHTS, LEGAL PLURALISM, RELIGION AND CULTURE

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor W Amien

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course enables a study of the implications for human rights arising from the simultaneous operation of secular, religious and customary legal systems within a singular country. To explore the significance that plural legal systems have on human rights, reference is made to different types of religious and customary laws including (but not limited to) family laws, personal laws, inheritance, criminal laws, finance, etc. The course draws on legislation, case law and socio-legal studies where applicable to examine how religious and customary laws drawn from among others (but not limited to) Islam, Hinduism, Judaism, Christianity and African customary laws impact on various human rights including (but not limited to) the rights to freedom of religion, culture and gender equality. Apart from a study of the South African context, comparative perspectives are also offered to enhance the students' understanding of the debates and applications of multiple legal systems and their implications for human rights in the international arena. The course addresses the following broad themes: theoretical foundations of legal pluralism; models for legal recognition of religious and cultural laws and their implications for human rights; selected religious and customary laws and their implications for human rights; legislative and judicial interventions contributing to legal pluralism; and comparative perspectives from across the globe (including South Africa).

PBL4808S INTERNATIONAL CRIMINAL LAW

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course provides an introduction to specialist studies in international criminal law, that is, the body of law regulating individual criminal responsibility under international law. The course covers the history and development of international criminal law and the establishment, jurisdiction and activities of the International Criminal Court, international and internationalised criminal tribunals. Attention is given to the material, mental and contextual elements of the three 'core crimes' - genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes - as well as the legal requirements of relevant modes of liability, general principles of international criminal law, procedure, complementarity and cooperation in international criminal matters and selected conceptual and institutional critiques of the international criminal justice 'project'. To benefit from this course, students will require a background in either international or criminal law, and are expected to participate fully in seminars and to read, understand and critically assess intrinsically complex and lengthy source materials.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at weekly seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 50% (seminar essays 40%, class presentation 10%), Examination 50%.

PBL4815S PUNISHMENT AND HUMAN RIGHTS

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: K Phelps

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with a sound theoretical understanding both of the justifications of punishment and human rights constraints in the context of sentencing. Students then apply this understanding to practical examples in order to assess how/ if the theory translates into practice. In so doing it is hoped to transcend a common-sense approach to sentencing and punishment and to build firm opinions/ approaches based on acquired knowledge. The course is divided into four broad sections. The first section introduces the class to the various philosophical justifications that have historically been provided for sentencing. A brief introduction is also provided to the relationship between human rights law and penal sanctions. The second section explores in detail the current justifications for punishment/ purposes of the correctional system. In so doing, issues such as deterrence, incapacitation, rehabilitation, restoration, retribution and just deserts will be explored. Section three deals with constraints placed on sentencing in South Africa by human rights norms contained in the Bill of Rights and international law. The final section of the course places the preceding theoretical/philosophical discussions into a practical context by dealing with current and future sentencing practice in South Africa, modes of implementing punishment (e.g. prison) and special stakeholders in punishment.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at, and satisfactory participation in, seminars and the completion of the research papers and oral presentation

Assessment: The presentation of at least one seminar and one research paper. Marks given for the seminars and research paper comprise the entire mark for the course.

PBL4820F THEORIES OF CRIME AND SOCIAL ORDER

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor K Moul

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The course is intended to provide an understanding of the theoretical ideas that have shaped and are shaping criminal justice policy and the way in which both implicit and explicit policy agendas are realized in practice. The course will explore the history of criminological theory on understandings of crime and social order. The course considers the thinking of seminal criminological theorists; schools of thought and emblematic exemplars of each will be explored. The course will be presented through a series of seminars/lectures.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Three reaction papers of 2000 words each 45%. A final paper of 5000 words 55%.

PBL4822S VICTIMS AND VICTIMOLOGY: THEORY, POLICY AND PRACTICE

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course provides an overview of the evolving interest in victims of crime and other forms of social harm. Here we take stock of concepts, theories, social constructions, policies and criminal justice practices which allow us to engage more thoughtfully with victims of crime and social harm. We are interested in the contestations and controversies relating to the social construction of victimhood, how claims to victimhood are staked; the forms of social mobilisation exhibited by groups of victims; the types of contestation to which this may give rise. We consider the interaction and/or fusion of identities between victims and offenders. Lastly, we move beyond the conventional remit of crime victims to take account of victims in the context of mass victimisation and in the context of organised forms of violence.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance and participation at seminars and completion of written assignments

Assessment: Coursework 60% (Written assignments), Examination 40% (Take-home).

PBL4844S POLICE AND POLICING: EXPLORATIONS IN SECURITY GOVERNANCE

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See Rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course is intended to develop academic and professional expertise in the governance of security and provides a critical understanding of governance through the window of police and policing. Thus, it explores both what trends in governance can tell us about policing and what policing can tell us about developments in governance. It focuses on the impacts that global and local governance developments, new risks, spaces and technologies, have on state and non-state policing, and the regulatory and human rights implications of new trends in policing. This course focuses particularly on security governance in Africa (particularly South Africa).

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of assignments.

Assessment: Two review papers of 2000 words each (40%) and a final paper of 4000 words (60%). This will comprise the entire mark for the course.

PBL4847S FORENSICS AND THE LAW

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor K Mout

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course engages integrally with questions of evidence and criminal procedure, as well as criminology and criminal law. It is designed for students who are interested in acquiring an introduction to the use of science to solve crime and will give students an understanding of the application of forensics to the law, including forensic accounting. The course engages with the crime scene investigation process, and provides an overview of the various kinds of forensic evidence that may be collected and presented in court. Students will be introduced to the theory of identification, documentation and collection of physical evidence, including fingerprints, shoe impressions, hair and fibres, firearms evidence and questioned documents. The course then considers biological evidence, including blood spatter and other fluids, forensic anthropology and odontology to introduce the student to some basics of forensic expertise. Finally, the course engages with forensic accounting. It equips students to understand basic forensics should they encounter such evidence in legal practice or research.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Term assignments - 20%; Term paper - 30%; Examination - 50%.

PBL4849F LAW IN ACTION - RESEARCH METHODS

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Associate Professor K Mout

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course aims to prepare students both to properly understand empirical research and methods, and to engage in empirical research projects of their own. Lawyers and legal scholars increasingly use empirical evidence to understand the legal system and its role in society, to unpack complex legal and policy questions, and to support their positions in the courtroom and in the business environment. Students who aim to undertake careers in academia (in the social sciences and in law) are increasingly required to undertake primary research. This course is designed to introduce students to the foundations of qualitative and quantitative empirical research, qualitative data collection and analysis techniques. The course intends to familiarise students with the research process from design to implementation, and will also consider the ethical implications of qualitative empirical research. The course is built on the view that empirical research is a craft that requires practice to do it well. Classes will provide students the opportunity to learn qualitative techniques through hands-on activities, class meetings and assignments.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

PBL5045S ENVIRONMENTAL LAW FOR NON-LAWYERS

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

15 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Paterson

Course entry requirements: Successful completion of any undergraduate degree. Not available to students undertaking an LLB or LLM degree or Postgraduate Diploma.

Course outline:

The inclusion of an environmental right in South Africa's Constitution has led to the emergence of many environmental laws and court decisions in the past 15 years. These developments are of key relevance to those working in the environmental sector including developers, consultants, biologists, zoologists, planners, sociologists and anthropologists. This course provides students undertaking postgraduate studies relevant to the environment with an insight into relevant principles of international and domestic environmental law. Key content covered in the course includes: an introduction to basic legal principles and resources; constitutional aspects (environmental rights, access to information, administrative justice and access to courts); framework environmental laws; land-use planning laws (planning law, environmental impact assessment and protected areas); natural resource laws (biodiversity, water and marine living resources); and pollution laws (fresh water, land and air pollution).

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance of lectures and completion of essay.

Assessment: Coursework 50% (Short assignment 10%, Long assignment 40%), Examination 50%.

PBL5623F GOVERNING UNDER THE CONSTITUTION: LAW AND PRACTICE*Higher postgraduate course, first semester, one seminar per week.*

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor P de VosCourse entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.Course outline:

South Africa's new Constitution sets out the rights of citizens and establishes a framework for democratic governance and local government. In developing these institutions, along with a multi-level system comprising national, provincial and local government, South Africa's constitutional designers were responding to the needs and aspirations of contemporary South Africa. But they, in light of this comparative experience, also had before them a rich array of alternatives from other countries. The central purpose of this course is to seek to understand the new framework for governance in South Africa.

Constitutions are complex mixtures of broad principles, and specific rules and institutions. Accordingly, we will be interested in two levels of analysis: first, what broad principles and values underpin the institutional framework, and how are these expressed in the institutions themselves? And, second, more practically, how do these institutions, and the interactions among them, actually work in shaping the process of policy-making and implementation? Thus, we are interested in the values associated with democracy – participation, accountability, consensus, etc; and in those associated with what might be called 'effective governance', in light of the policy challenges which face the country.

The course will thus also provide you with an understanding of how government works with a focus on (i) the relationship between the executive and the legislature and what that means for lawyers and (ii) the relationship between national, provincial and local government. Our study of multi-level government and the powers of each sphere of framework necessary for policy making and litigation in this area.

PBL5631F INTERNATIONAL PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Higher postgraduate course, first semester, one three-hour seminar a week.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor W Amien

Course entry requirements: For both course codes (PBL4631F and PBL5631F), priority will be given to LLM/MPhil and PGDip students specialising in Human Rights Law. Thereafter, applications by students who are not specialising in Human Rights Law will be considered on a case by case basis subject to receiving written motivations by students that are no longer than one page, their curriculum vitae and academic transcripts. In respect of the latter category of students, criteria for consideration include among others, academic merit and exposure to human rights (through completed courses and/or work experience)

Course outline:

This is a seminar- and research-based course, which aims to encourage engagement with questions and issues that arise within the context of international human rights law. In particular, the course aims to provide an understanding of the international and regional frameworks that seek to protect and promote human rights. This includes a consideration of the mechanisms that have been established to realise protection of human rights at the international and regional levels. The course covers

- (a) The jurisprudential and philosophical bases of human rights
- (b) The various institutions through which human rights are protected at international and regional levels
- (c) International and regional human rights standards
- (d) The implementation of human rights standards
- (e) Specific topics in international and regional human rights law.

PBL5640F PRINCIPLES OF ENVIRONMENTAL LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester. This course will be taught in Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Paterson

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

The health of planet earth, and accordingly the sustainability of human life on it, is facing significant challenges. One of the disciplines which have sought to fashion a framework for overcoming and governing these challenges, is law. The result has seen the rapid emergence of international and regional instruments and domestic laws seeking to regulate the manner in which humans interact with their environment.

This course provides a comprehensive introduction to environmental law. It covers the following main content: historical overview of the development of environmental law; ethical basis for environmental law; the nature, scope and sources of environmental law; the relationship between constitutional rights (environmental rights, administrative justice, access to information, locus standi) and environmental law; environmental governance; the role of common law; and the main legal tools prevalent in environmental laws such as planning measures, institutional arrangements, permitting measures, EIA, civil measures, administrative measures, criminal measures, voluntary measures and incentive-based measures.

As South Africa has one of the world's most contemporary environmental legal regimes, it will be used as a case study throughout the above components. Given the all-pervasive nature of environmental law, the issues covered in this course are of relevance to all domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector. Furthermore, given the contemporary nature of South Africa's environmental regime, the course is of key relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic environmental regimes.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation on class seminars and submission of course assignment.

PBL5641F LAND USE PLANNING LAW

Higher postgraduate course, first semester. This course will be taught in Block Teaching Format.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor A Paterson

Course entry requirements: See rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees. The student must have completed, or be simultaneously completing, Principles of Environmental Law or have the prior written consent of the course convener.

Course outline:

One of the key ways to govern the impact of society on the environment is through regulating land-use and planning. Land use planning law came into being at the beginning of the twentieth century but environmental law was superimposed on it towards the end of the twentieth century. The past few decades have accordingly seen a significant shift in the array and nature of regulatory tools planning authorities have sought to use to achieve a balance between the dictates of development and environmental protection. Key planning tools which are inherent in domestic legal frameworks include: integrated development planning; future spatial planning; zoning schemes; subdivision; title deed restrictions; environmental impact assessment; the designation of protected areas; and in the context of coastal management, integrated coastal planning.

This course aims to critically examine the nature of these various planning tools. South Africa's domestic regime is used as a case study through which to explore their practical application. These land-use and planning tools are of relevance to every landowner and the course is accordingly of relevance to domestic legal practitioners, government officials and those working in the NGO sector. Furthermore, given the contemporary nature of South Africa's environmental impact assessment, coastal planning and protected areas regimes in particular, the course is of key relevance to foreign students wishing to understand, critique and become involved in the reformation of their own domestic land-use and planning regimes.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at all lectures, participation on class seminars and submission of course assignment.

PBL5644S SEXUAL OFFENCES AND THE LAW

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Smythe and Associate Professor J Omar

Course entry requirements: None.

Co-requisites: Students who wish to pursue empirical work for their dissertations in the area of sexual offences will be required to have completed PBL Law in Action.

Course outline:

Taking a multi-disciplinary and comparative approach, this course will engage with the utility of law in addressing sexual violence, testing its aims and highlighting challenges and limitations. In doing so, the course situates law within the broader social, economic, political and historical context. The course will also focus on the interpretation and impact of specific provisions of the Criminal Law (Sexual Offences and Related Matters) Amendment Act 32 of 2007 and contemporary and novel issues relating to sexual offences. Topics to be covered during seminars may include: defining rape, autonomy and consent; investigating and prosecuting sexual offences; mens rea; medico-legal and psycho-social issues; the criminalisation of sexually transmitted diseases; online sexual violence; vulnerable witnesses and protective measures; evidence and procedure: caution, corroboration and delays, previous sexual history, character and disclosure of personal records; publication of offender names ('naming and shaming'); vernacular law approaches to sexual violence; compensation; sexual offender registers; quasi-legal proceedings, such as inquiries into sexual harassment in the workplace and other related issues.

PBL5653F REFUGEE LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor F Khan

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

Part 1 of the course will set out the origins, developments and established principles of refugee rights in international human rights law. Through this discussion students will acquire a thorough understanding of the 1951 UN Convention relating to the status of refugees and certain regional instruments, in particular the OAU Convention, and the South African Refugees Act.

Part 2 will focus on the regime of rights protected by the various instruments. Through a series of seminars students will undertake an analysis of the substance of specific rights (please note that the rights under discussion will change from year to year).

Part 3 will conclude the course by focusing on contemporary issues in refugee law. Under discussion in 2015 will be the question of a "lasting peace" in Rwanda and the pre-mature recommendations of cessation for Rwandans.

PBL5658S ADMINISTRATIVE JUSTICE AND OPEN GOVERNMENT

Higher postgraduate course, second semester, one seminar per week.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: N Ally

Course entry requirements: Competent academic and/or practical knowledge of South African and/or common-law based administrative law. Those without a formal qualification in law will be admitted at the discretion of the course convener.

Course outline:

There is no doubt that the organisational complexity of a modern democratic state demands of its executive branch that it be sophisticated, efficient, open and accountable. Most of such administrative process must be based on discretionary power in the hands of public officials. The challenge is to fashion legal rights, duties and procedures so that the subject has remedies to confront the abuse of public power, while leaving the executive sufficient space to govern legitimately. South African administrative law is relatively undeveloped when compared with similar legal systems, yet it faces greater demands than exist in most countries. This is particularly the case as the Constitution develops to accommodate changing political reality. This course intends to enable students to become familiar with a responsive package of legal institutions and rules to regulate the administration. Current administrative law will be examined critically, with substantial reference to the way in which the law has developed in other jurisdictions, particularly in the British Commonwealth. The feasibility and form of constitutional protection of the right of access to information and of open government will receive considerable attention, in the context of the exponential increase in legal protection at both international and national level for ATI in the past 15 years, and the emerging new academic literature on ATI. While the course will be critical and forward-looking, it will naturally involve a detailed knowledge of current law and practice, equipping students to be practitioners in the forefront of developments in this field. Several guest lecturers will participate in the course while Associate Professor R Calland will lecture on open government.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in seminars and completion of assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 40% (Essay, Long paper) Examination 60%.

PBL5659S HUMAN RIGHTS, LEGAL PLURALISM, RELIGION AND CULTURE

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor W Amien

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees

Course outline:

This course enables a study of the implications for human rights arising from the simultaneous operation of secular, religious and customary legal systems within a singular country. To explore the significance that plural legal systems have on human rights, reference is made to different types of religious and customary laws including (but not limited to) family laws, personal laws, inheritance, criminal laws, finance, etc. The course draws on legislation, case law and socio-legal studies where applicable to examine how religious and customary laws drawn from among others (but not limited to) Islam, Hinduism, Judaism, Christianity and African customary laws impact on various human rights including (but not limited to) the rights to freedom of religion, culture and gender equality.

Apart from a study of the South African context, comparative perspectives are also offered to enhance the students' understanding of the debates and applications of multiple legal systems and their implications for human rights in the international arena. The course addresses the following broad themes: theoretical foundations of legal pluralism; models for legal recognition of religious and cultural laws and their implications for human rights; selected religious and customary laws and their implications for human rights; legislative and judicial interventions contributing to legal pluralism; and comparative perspectives from across the globe (including South Africa).

PBL5661S LITIGATING SOUTH AFRICAN BILL OF RIGHTS

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor R Calland

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

South Africa's experiment in Constitutional Democracy represents a rich case for the study of modern human rights. The socio-economic and political backdrop against which the Bill of Rights operates provides a complex and challenging context for the laboratory in rights and governance that the 1996 Constitution – and the political settlement that lies behind it – creates. Since the Constitution enjoins the courts to take into account international law when applying and interpreting the rights contained in the Bill of Rights, the course will, therefore, root the South African human rights law trajectory in an international framework and, where appropriate, provide a comparative perspective. Thus, the course tracks the jurisprudence of the South African courts and, in particular, the Constitutional Court since its inception, through the study of specific human rights topics, broadly categorised as civil and political rights – such as the right to freedom of expression and free media speech, the right to equality and religious/cultural freedom, etc; socio-economic rights – such as the right to access to adequate housing, the right to a clean environment, the right to quality basic education, the right to health care, etc; programmatic rights – such as the right to access to justice and the 'right' to participate in public policy-making. The course will also consist of several sessions dealing with the conceptual and practical aspects of litigating constitutional cases.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at and participation in lectures and completion of written and other assignments.

PBL5663S TRANSPARENCY LAW & GOVERNANCE: GLOBAL AND LOCAL THEORY & PRACTICE

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor R Calland

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil degrees.

Course outline:

This course explores both the theory and the practice of modern access to information law (ATI) and the implications for transparency policy as a critical accountability mechanism for a democratic state. The first part of the course includes a comparative law dimension, which asks what works best where, and why, and which considers the potential scope of the law, including whether it encompasses private as well as public information. The growing body of jurisprudence on ATI is reviewed, drawing from diverse legal regimes such as India, South Africa and the United States, and the emerging literature on the underpinning theory of ATI, as a 'leverage' human right' is examined enabling students to explore the relationship between ATI and development/socio-economic justice. The second half of the course turns to the broader policy questions that include: voluntary disclosure regimes, such as the Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative (EITI); the relationship with data protection/privacy law (and new developments such as the open data movement) and whistleblowing protection; transparent budget process; corporate disclosure rules; and, the different models for enforcement, such as the role of an Information Commissioner. Lastly, the political economy of ATI is unpicked: what are the obstacles to effective implementation of the right to ATI?

DP requirements: None

Assessment: 50% Practical Assignment (comparative usage of ATI Law), 50% Examination.

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees. Successful completion of courses in public international law, and substantive criminal law from any legal tradition. The course convener may make exceptions to this rule for students who demonstrate sufficient understanding of the principles of international law and criminal law.

Course outline:

This course provides an introduction to specialist studies in international criminal law, that is, the body of law regulating individual criminal responsibility under international law. The course covers the history and development of international criminal law and the establishment, jurisdiction and activities of the International Criminal Court, international and internationalised criminal tribunals. Attention is given to the material, mental and contextual elements of the three 'core crimes' - genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes - as well as the legal requirements of relevant modes of liability, general principles of international criminal law, procedure, complementarity and cooperation in international criminal matters and selected conceptual and institutional critiques of the international criminal justice 'project'. To benefit from this course, students will require a background in either international or criminal law, and are expected to participate fully in seminars and to read, understand and critically assess intrinsically complex and lengthy source materials.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at weekly seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 50% (Seminar essays 40%, in-class presentation 10%), Examination 50%

PBL5815S PUNISHMENT AND HUMAN RIGHTS

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: K Phelps

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with a sound theoretical understanding both of the justifications of punishment and human rights constraints in the context of sentencing. Students then apply this understanding to practical examples in order to assess how/ if the theory translates into practice. In so doing it is hoped to transcend a common-sense approach to sentencing and punishment and to build firm opinions/ approaches based on acquired knowledge.

The course is divided into four broad sections. The first section introduces the class to the various philosophical justifications that have historically been provided for sentencing. A brief introduction is also provided to the relationship between human rights law and penal sanctions. The second section explores in detail the current justifications for punishment/ purposes of the correctional system. In so doing, issues such as deterrence, incapacitation, rehabilitation, restoration, retribution and just deserts will be explored. Section three deals with constraints placed on sentencing in South Africa by human rights norms contained in the Bill of Rights and international law. The final section of the course places the preceding theoretical/philosophical discussions into a practical context by dealing with current and future sentencing practice in South Africa, modes of implementing punishment (e.g. prison) and special stakeholders in punishment.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at, and satisfactory participation in, seminars and the completion of the research papers and oral presentation.

Assessment: The presentation of at least one seminar and one research paper. Marks given for the seminars and research paper comprise the entire mark for the course.

PBL5820F THEORIES OF CRIME AND SOCIAL ORDER

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor K Moul

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

The course is intended to provide an understanding of the theoretical ideas that have shaped and are shaping criminal justice policy and the way in which both implicit and explicit policy agendas are realized in practice. The course will explore the history of criminological theory on understandings of crime and social order. The course considers the thinking of seminal criminological theorists; schools of thought and emblematic exemplars of each will be explored. The course will be presented through a series of seminars/lectures.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

PBL5822S VICTIMS AND VICTIMOLOGY

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees. Honours degree in Humanities or LLB.

Course outline:

This course is designed to provide us with an overview of the evolving interest in victims of crime and other forms of social harm. Here we take stock of concepts, theories, social constructions, policies and criminal justice practices which allow us to engage more thoughtfully with victims of crime and social harm. We are interested in the contestations and controversies relating to the social construction of victimhood, how claims to victimhood are staked; the forms of social mobilisation exhibited by groups of victims; the types of contestation to which this may give rise. We consider the interaction and/or fusion of identities between victims and offenders. Substantive areas of concern may include: victims of interpersonal violent crime (homicide; gendered based forms of violence); as well as victims of organised crime; terror; environmental degradation and genocide.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance and participation at seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Coursework 60% (Assignments) Examination 40%

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

This course is intended to develop academic and professional expertise in the governance of security and provides a critical understanding of trends in the governance of security through the window of police and policing. Thus, it explores both what trends in governance can tell us about policing and what policing can tell us about developments in governance. It focuses on the impacts that global and local governance developments, new risks, spaces and technologies, have on state and non-state policing, and the regulatory and human rights implications of new trends in policing. This course focuses particularly on security governance in Africa (particularly South Africa).

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of assignments.

Assessment: Two review papers of 2 500 words (40%) and a policy paper 5 000 words (60%). This will comprise the entire mark for the course.

Higher postgraduate course, second semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9; 12 lectures with 1 site visit.

Convener: Associate Professor K Moulton

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

This course engages integrally with questions of evidence and criminal procedure, as well as criminology and criminal law. It is designed for students who are interested in acquiring an introduction to the use of science to solve crime and will give students an understanding of the application of forensics to the law, including forensic accounting. The course engages with the crime scene investigation process, and provides an overview of the various kinds of forensic evidence that may be collected and presented in court. Students will be introduced to the theory of identification, documentation and collection of physical evidence, including fingerprints, shoe impressions, hair and fibres, firearms evidence and questioned documents. The course then considers biological evidence, including blood spatter and other fluids, forensic anthropology and odontology to introduce the student to some basics of forensic expertise. Finally, the course engages with forensic accounting. It equips students to understand basic forensics should they encounter such evidence in legal practice or research.

PBL5848F LAW AND SOCIETY IN AFRICA

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor D Smythe

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

Law shapes and is shaped by our social, political and cultural institutions and practices. In this course we will engage with some of the key theories and concepts, such as legal consciousness and legal pluralism, that help us to understand the relationship between law and society. Explicitly interdisciplinary in orientation, the course will consider questions that arise – and are best addressed – at the intersections of legal, social, political and economic fields like why some laws are made (or enforced) and others are not, the institutional barriers to effective implementation, the reasons why citizens turn to the law (or not) to address their problems, the functioning of police, prosecutors, courts and prisons – and the other forms of social regulation that fill the gaps in between.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

Assessment: Response papers 30%; Presentation at a student conference on Law and Society 20%; Research paper of 6000-8000 words 50%

PBL5849F LAW IN ACTION

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Associate Professor K Moulton

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with the knowledge and skills to undertake relevant and ethical research through preparing students both to properly understand empirical research and methods, and to engage in empirical research projects of their own. Students who aim to undertake careers in academia (in the social sciences and in law) are increasingly required to undertake primary research. Thus, this course is designed to introduce students to the foundations of qualitative empirical research, qualitative data collection and analysis techniques. The course intends to familiarise students with the research process from design to implementation, and will also consider the ethical implications of qualitative empirical research. The course is built on the view that empirical research is a craft that requires practice to implement effectively. Classes are therefore hands-on, designed to be highly interactive, and will provide students with the opportunity to learn qualitative techniques by 'doing' in class meetings and in assignments. Although the course is primarily focused on qualitative research, a component of the course will equip students with the skills to be able to read and understand quantitative data.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance at seminars and completion of written assignments.

PBL5850W MASTERS IN CRIMINOLOGY, LAW AND SOCIETY DISSERTATION PART

Higher postgraduate course, whole year.

120 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: A supervisor appointed by Senate

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM and MPhil Degrees.

Course outline:

A Master of Laws (LLM) or Master of Philosophy (MPhil) student must write a minor dissertation on a subject of legal interest related to one of their courses. The subject of the dissertation must also satisfy the rules applicable to the particular programme. The minor dissertation may not exceed 25 000 words in length. Although an original contribution to knowledge is always desirable in a minor dissertation, it is not an essential requirement. However, candidates must show that they have a thorough knowledge of the subject chosen; mastered techniques required for competent research in law; the capacity for independent thought and sound reasoning; and satisfactorily presented the results of the research.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: 100% written work.

PBL5851S CRIMINAL PROCESS AND HUMAN RIGHTS

30 NQF credits at NQF level 9

Convener: Professor PJ Schwikkard and Dr T Mosaka

Course entry requirements: See Rules for LLM/MPhil degrees.

Co-requisites: None

Course outline:

The course will draw together two components of the criminal process, namely, substantive and procedural law (the latter including evidentiary issues). Theories underlying the criminal process will be explored in a human rights context and applied to contemporary challenges and developments. These include the appropriateness of a primarily adversarial trial process; the lag between developments in social science and rules of proof; the impact of the digital world on criminal processes and the challenge of de-colonisation.

DP requirements: Satisfactory attendance and participation at seminars.

Assessment: Coursework 40% made up of 2 oral presentations in class (10% each) and 1 written assignment. Final research paper 60%.

(Not offered in 2022) Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

The relationship between human rights and private law is becoming increasingly important in many jurisdictions, and continues to generate controversy in South Africa. This course aims to enhance participants' understanding of the relationship between human and constitutional rights, on the one hand, and core areas of South African private law, on the other, by placing that relationship in theoretical and comparative perspective. It considers: (a) different models of the horizontal application of human rights under different domestic constitutions; (b) the competing legal and political theories at play in the relationship between Private Law and Human Rights; and (c) selected issues where human rights have recently influenced traditional private law doctrines (e.g. in property, obligations, and family law) in different jurisdictions.

PVL4630F COMPARATIVE MINERAL LAW IN AFRICA

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H Mostert

Course entry requirements: See rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

In enabling study of the theory and practice of mineral law, this course focuses on building understanding of the complexities of the mineral laws of selected African jurisdictions in their historical, constitutional and political setting. It introduces the topic by dealing with the prevalent regulatory frameworks for mineral law in Africa, and the core concepts. It deals specifically with the nature and content of rights to minerals. In doing so, it analyses critically the extent of current regulatory controls and/or lack thereof, focusing specifically on provisions dealing with resource rents, social and environmental responsibility and governance in the mineral and petroleum sectors. This allows students to gain a critical understanding of the practical context in which mineral law operates, and the need for reform.

DP requirements: 80% attendance at seminars.

Assessment: 100% continuous assessment.

advantages and disadvantages of these contracts to furthering the goals of the broader legislative scheme governing mineral resources. It will provide a clear overview of the requirements for a valid contract and the types of terms and conditions typically encountered in contracts of this nature. It will furthermore set out the practical context within which these contracts are negotiated, providing insight into the imbalance of power (asymmetry of information) of negotiating teams. The stages of the negotiating process will be set out in detail, which includes the pre-negotiation, negotiation and post-negotiation stage. Finally, the concepts of good governance, transparency and accountability will be discussed throughout the course, given their importance to facilitating outcomes that are favourable to the public.

PVL4632F OIL AND GAS LAW IN SOUTH AFRICA

Higher postgraduate course, first semester.

30 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Professor H Mostert

Course entry requirements: See Rules for Postgraduate Diplomas.

Course outline:

This course is aimed at students interested in the regulation of the oil and gas sector, with a particular focus on the legal framework governing this sector. It will provide an overview of the role-players in the industry, as well as the various stages of project development. It focuses on selected practical and theoretical aspects of the South African law of oil and gas. The course aims to provide specialist knowledge on the governance and management of oil and gas, specifically focusing on the regulation of these resources by the state, licensing requirements and consequences, as well as issues of ownership of resources and land. Other issues that confront the industry will also be discussed, including black economic empowerment and other local content requirements, royalties and taxation, social and environmental responsibility, and administrative law.

African law. In the first place, the course will look at the important ways in which the South African law of delict has been (and still might be) changed in order to bring it in line with the South African Constitution: examples are in respect of omissions by public bodies, vicarious liability, and enrichment, and at how it relates to the rights in and values of the South African Constitution. The course will, however, also place the South African law in a broader comparative context: in particular, it will look at the relationship between delict/tort and unjustified enrichment/restitution, on the one hand, and human rights, on the other, in English, Canadian and German law.

Exchange Student:

An exchange student is one from an overseas tertiary institution with which UCT has entered into an Exchange Agreement. An Exchange Agreement may either be a 'university wide' agreement that is administered by the International Academic Programmes Office (IAPO) or a 'Faculty wide' agreement, which is administered by the Faculty Office. In terms of these agreements, one or more students from the overseas institution may register at UCT for one or more semesters (depending on the terms of the exchange agreement). The agreements are usually subject to a reciprocal fee waiver arrangement, which means that exchange students are not required to pay UCT fees but may still be required to pay their home institution's fees.

The overseas institution with which UCT has concluded an exchange agreement will usually nominate students to take up an exchange place at UCT. Once nominated by the home institution and once the UCT Faculty Office is advised of such a nomination, exchange students must comply with the procedures for applying to study at UCT and may contact the Faculty Office for more information in this regard. Exchange students should contact their home university's Exchange Co-ordinator for more information on whether or not their institution has an exchange agreement with UCT and for the nomination procedures of their institution.

Semester Study Abroad (SSA) Student:

An SSA student is one from an overseas tertiary institution who registers at UCT for one or more semesters, paying full tuition fees at UCT. SSA students must apply through the International Academic Programmes Office (IAPO) for admission to UCT. For information about application procedures and general information to study at UCT, visit <http://www.iapo.uct.ac.za/> or email iapo@uct.ac.za.

See below further information as to which courses may be taken by SSA students.

Undergraduate Student:

An undergraduate student is one who does not yet hold a law degree (or a non-law general degree) from a tertiary institution. Students who are in possession of a degree from a tertiary institution, and who are attending law school, but have yet to be awarded a law degree are regarded as undergraduate students for the purpose of study at UCT.

Postgraduate Student:

A postgraduate student is one who is already in possession of a law degree from a tertiary institution.

Orientation Programmes and Accommodation

The International Academic Programmes Office (IAPO) at UCT arranges orientation programmes for Semester Study Abroad and Exchange students and provides information about accommodation as well as general information to study at UCT. See <http://www.iapo.uct.ac.za/> or email iapo@uct.ac.za for more information.

Faculty of Law:

The Faculty of Law is one of six faculties at UCT. The six faculties comprise approximately 62 departments. The Faculty of Law offers a Bachelor of Laws (undergraduate stream or graduate stream), Master of Laws (by coursework and research dissertation or by research dissertation only), Professional Masters, Postgraduate Diploma in Law and Doctoral degree (Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Laws). The Dean is the Head of the Law Faculty and is assisted by the Law Faculty Office, which is headed by the Law Faculty Manager for Academic Administration. For more information, see <http://www.law.uct.ac.za/>.

The Faculty of Law is physically situated in the Wilfred and Jules Kramer Building, Middle Campus.

Law Faculty Office:

The Law Faculty Office is the office for the academic administration of the Faculty of Law. The Faculty Office may be contacted on +27 21 650 3086. For queries relating to admission to study law at UCT, email law-studies@uct.ac.za.

Academic and general information

Undergraduate Exchange and Semester Study Abroad Students may do up to a maximum of four courses per semester (unless they obtain permission from the Exchange Advisor to do more).

- The four courses can comprise up to four LLB courses or no more than one LLM course and up to three LLB courses.
- Should an undergraduate student wish to take an LLM course, s/he must first obtain the permission of the individual course convener and provide the Law Faculty Office with the convener's written permission. A signature by the course convener on the registration form is sufficient, if such permission can be obtained at the time of registration. If not, written confirmation must be given to the Faculty Office at the earliest available date thereafter.
- We cannot advise Semester Study Abroad and Foreign Exchange students on how many credits they will receive from their home institution per course. Students need to obtain that information from their home institutions. All we can advise is that a full semester load for UCT undergraduate students is the equivalent to four courses per semester.

Postgraduate Exchange and Semester Study Abroad Students may do a maximum of three LLM courses per semester.

- No additional LLM or LLB courses may be taken.
- Postgraduate students do not need to obtain the permission of the LLM course convener in order to take an LLM course, unless the Faculty Handbook prescribes certain necessary course entrance requirements or has limited class sizes prescribed for the course.

Course Contact Lectures and Information:

- The number of contact lectures for each LLB and LLM course is contained in the Law Faculty Handbook, available from the Law Faculty Office or on the UCT website <http://www.students.uct.ac.za/students/study/handbooks/current>.
- Much of the information regarding courses (both LLB and LLM) is available online on the Law Faculty's website (<http://www.law.uct.ac.za>, select Courses).

Other General Requirements:

- Exchange students who come to study at UCT in terms of an exchange agreement between their Law Faculty and the UCT Law Faculty may only do courses offered by the UCT Law Faculty. If they wish to do courses offered by other faculties at UCT, they need to register with IAPO as occasional students in respect of those additional courses, for which they will need to pay the appropriate fees.

188 EXCHANGE COURSES

- Exchange and Semester Study Abroad students who register for a course are required to complete all the assignments and examinations set for that course. Students do not receive a credit for a course merely for 'attending' lectures or seminars.
- All students, including Exchange and Semester Study Abroad students can change a course at any time within the first week following registration. Thereafter, they will be precluded from doing so.

EXCHANGE COURSES

PBL2000F CONSTITUTIONAL LAW (PART A)

Only exchange and semester study abroad students may register. The course cannot be considered as credit towards a degree at UCT.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor C Powell

Course outline:

This course provides an introduction to the history of South African constitutional law and basic concepts such as democracy, legitimacy, constitutionalism, federalism, separation of powers and the rule of law. It then considers the South African Constitution in detail, examining the functions and powers of the three branches of government and the different spheres of government (national, provincial and local).

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Two assignments 20%; One written examination (2 hours) 80%.

PBL3001F INTERNATIONAL LAW

Intermediate Level, half course, first semester

18 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: Associate Professor H Woolaver

Course entry requirements: All Preliminary Level courses to have been completed.

Course outline:

The course addresses the following aspects of international law: introduction and sources of law; subjects and objects of international law; the relationship between international and South African law; state responsibility; peaceful settlement of disputes; the use of force; the United Nations and other key international organisations; and international criminal law.

DP requirements: Please refer to the course handout and/or the intermediate year schedule.

Assessment: Optional essay/opinion: 20%; Mid-course assessment: 30%; Final exam: 50% (if essay/opinion) or 70% (if no essay/opinion)

PBL3801F CRIMINAL LAW (PART A)

Only exchange and semester study abroad students may register. The course cannot be considered as credit towards a degree at UCT.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 7

Convener: K Phelps

Course outline:

Introduction: This course covers the general principles of criminal law. Students are introduced to these principles by a brief examination of the nature of criminal law, the principle of legality and the operation of the Bill of Rights on the rules of criminal law.

Analysis of principles:

The course focuses on an analysis of the case law and legal principles governing the elements of voluntariness of conduct (including the defence of automatism); causation; defences excluding unlawfulness (private defence, necessity, impossibility, obedience to orders, public authority and consent); capacity (including the defences of youth, insanity, intoxication, provocation and emotional stress); fault in the forms of intention and negligence; common purpose, accomplice and accessory-after-the-fact liability; attempt, incitement and conspiracy. The tutorial style of teaching is favoured and students are given all of the tutorial problems and readings, in the order in which they will be covered in classes, at the beginning of the semester and are required to prepare in advance of lectures and tutorials. Class participation is essential.

DP requirements: None

Assessment: Essay 20%; Compulsory test 80%.

PVL1003F/S FOUNDATIONS OF SOUTH AFRICAN LAW (PART A AND B)

First semester/Second semester, three lectures per week. Occasional tutorials at the Convener's discretion. Only exchange and semester study abroad students may register. The course cannot be considered as credit towards a degree at UCT.

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: Professor AJ Barnard-Naude

Course outline:

PVL1003F: The objectives of this course are that firstly students should develop foundational knowledge about the legal system in South Africa, including a knowledge of the history, sources of law, hierarchy of the courts, legal reasoning, with special attention to the doctrine of precedent, classifications of the law and fundamental legal concepts, as well as areas of the law relating to HIV and AIDS. The course then covers an introduction to the South African political transition from authoritarian rule to constitutional democracy, including a discussion of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission, transformative constitutionalism and decolonisation.

PVL1003S: Students engage in the first part of the course in a review of the development of public law culture, viewed from the point of view of the fluctuating fortunes of the rule of law. The final section provides students with an overview of the rules relating to interpretation of statutes, and their practical application.

DP requirements: Attendance at 80% of tutorials.

Assessment: One three hour written examination in the first/second semester.

COMMERCIAL LAW SERVICE COURSES FOR NON-LAW STUDENTS

Director: J Franco

Administrator: T Murphy

CML1001F BUSINESS LAW I

18 NQF credits at NQF level 5

Convener: K Lehmann

Course entry requirements: None

Course outline:

The purpose of the course is to provide students with a general introduction to the South African legal system, with its main focus the law of contract. The course starts with an overview of the South African court structure and contemporary sources and branches of South African law, and also introduces students to the Constitution and the impact that it continues to have on legal development. The course then provides students with a general but comprehensive introduction to the general principles of contract, focusing on formation of contracts, the content of contracts, breach of contract and remedies for breach. The course also aims to provide students with an introduction to certain specific contracts, most notably contracts of sale, lease and agency. The general principles of contract are supplemented by a consideration of legislation, in particular the provisions of the Consumer Protection Act, where relevant.

Lecture times: The course is an intensive one, with 5 contact periods per week for the full semester.

DP requirements: Coursework is compulsory. If the student does not submit hand-ins or write a test the student will receive a mark of 0 for that assessment (unless granted an exemption). But the student will be able to write the exam.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; final examination 60%.

192 COMMERCIAL LAW SERVICE COURSES FOR NON-LAW STUDENTS

Convener: R Bradstreet

Course entry requirements: Business Law 1 and no undergraduate student in his/her first year of study may register for Company Law.

Course outline:

The course offers an overview of the laws that govern the nature, formation, and management of partnerships, trusts, companies and close corporations with the main focus being on companies. Students are encouraged to apply the analytical abilities acquired in previous law courses and these skills are further developed. After the course students will be able to, amongst others, navigate the Companies Act 71 of 2008 and will be familiar with its core provisions and their practical impact.

Lecture times: The course is an intensive one with 5 contact periods per week for the full semester.

DP requirements: Coursework is compulsory. If the student does not submit hand-ins or write a test the student will receive a mark of 0 for that assessment (unless granted an exemption). But the student will be able to write the exam.

Assessment: Coursework 40%; final examination 60%.

CML205F LABOUR LAW

18 NQF credits at NQF level 6

Convener: TBA

Course entry requirements: No undergraduate student in his/her first year of study may take Labour Law. It is recommended that students have passed a foundation course in law, e.g. Business Law I.

Course outline:

This course aims to provide students with an understanding of the common law contract of employment and labour law statutes; including the Labour Relations Act; Basic Conditions of the Employment Act; and the Employment Equity Act. The course will specifically focus on the following issues that commonly arise in the workplace: the legal definition of 'employee'; discipline and dismissals; unfair labour practices; unfair discrimination in employment and recruitment and selection; employment equity issues; collective bargaining; strikes and lock-outs; and dispute resolution.

Lecture times: This course is an intensive one, with 3 lectures per week for the full semester.

DP requirements: Coursework is compulsory. If the student does not submit hand-ins or write a test the student will receive a mark of 0 for that assessment (unless granted an exemption). But the student will be able to write the exam.

CML2010S BUSINESS LAW II

18 NQF credits at NQF level 6

Convener: J Franco

Course entry requirements: Business Law I and no undergraduate student in his/her first year of study may register for Business Law II.

Course outline:

Business law 2 is designed to give students an understanding of commercial transactions, how they are financed and the risks involved. The course covers insolvency, credit agreements, the various forms of security that can be used to finance commercial transactions as well as insurance. By the end of the course, students should have an appreciation of the types of legal issues that commonly arise in financing transactions – how creditors can best secure themselves in the event of non-payment and ultimately the risk of insolvency and how debtors are protected under the National Credit Act. The course also covers the responsibilities of an accounting officer in the public sector, looking specifically at the Public Finance Management Act 1999 and the Municipal Finance Management Act 2003 and related laws.

Lecture times: The course is an intensive one, with 5 contact periods per week for the full semester.

DP requirements: Coursework is compulsory. If the student does not submit hand-ins or write a test the student will receive a mark of 0 for that assessment (unless granted an exemption). But the student will be able to write the exam.

10 NQF credits at NQF level 8

Convener: Dr E Fergus

Course entry requirements: This course is only available to BSc(Eng) Electrical Engineering; BSc(Eng) Electrical and Computer Engineering and BSc(Eng) Mechatronics students.

Course outline:

The course is designed to give students a general understanding of the legal issues they will face in their engineering careers and to enable them to act professionally and ethically. The course gives an overview of the South African legal system, and then provides a general but comprehensive synopsis of the law of contract, labour law, corporate governance and the various entities which can be used for conducting business and the legal implications of each. In addition students are given an introduction to intellectual property. By the end of the term students should have an appreciation of the types of issues and risks that commonly arise in the socio-legal context of engineering practice.

Lecture times: There are 4 contact sessions per week in this intensive course.

DP requirements: Completion of assignment and class test is compulsory. If the student does not submit the assignment or write the test the student will receive 0 for that assessment (unless granted an exemption). But the student will be able to write the exam.

Assessment: Assignment (20%), Class test (20%), Exam (60%)

SUMMER TERM SERVICE COURSES

Admission Criteria: The following courses will be limited to a maximum of 75 students. Once this number has been reached, no further students will be registered for the course.

Note: A first year student may not do a law course during Summer Term.

Note: Students may not anticipate a course in order to lighten their standard workload

In addition to the above, only the following students are eligible to do these law courses in Summer Term:

- a) Semester Study Abroad Students (from UCT), registered in the Commerce Faculty who need the course to graduate in the current year;
- b) Construction Studies students who require Business Law I as a prerequisite for CON3032W and who already have a full credit load and which could impact on their graduation;
- c) Students for whom the course is the only course required in order to graduate (i.e. it is the only scheduled course outstanding for the degree);
- d) Students who require the course in order to graduate in the current year of study and who are already carrying a normal scheduled workload.

Note: In the event of an over-subscription students may have to be de-registered for the course and preference will be given to students in the order of the above categories i.e. first group (a), second group (b) and so on. Students must register by 1 October and will be notified by the end of October if they are to de-register. But students in categories (c) and (d) may register up to 15 December.

Note: A course will only run if a minimum of 45 students register for the course – if fewer students register, the course will be withdrawn due to insufficient demand.

The authority and responsibility for administering the admission criteria and registering students on the Summer Term programme rests with each student's home faculty.

STUDENTS MUST STATE WHICH CATEGORY (a-d) THEY FALL INTO WHEN REGISTERING.

Twamley Undergraduate Scholarship

The Twamley Undergraduate Scholarships were founded in memory of the late Mr Harold James van Staveren Twamley who bequeathed funds to the University for this purpose.

The scholarship is made on the basis of the most outstanding academic performance on the results obtained by a student who was registered for the first time for PBL2000W Constitutional Law, PVL2002H Law of Property and PVL2003H Law of Succession.

Value: R2 000
Tenure: One year

Scholarships awarded on application

The Faculty of Law offers a number of scholarships for South African LLB students, based on academic merit and demonstrated financial need, and are primarily focused on students from previously disadvantaged backgrounds. These scholarships are for tuition fees and are credited directly to the fee account of successful recipients. Some scholarships are renewable, dependent on academic performance and donor funding. Application forms are available on the Faculty website at www.law.uct.ac.za/scholarship-funding, which is intermittently updated as opportunities become available.

Scholarships: for South Africans from previously disadvantaged backgrounds studying Law at UCT

The Faculty of Law has raised donor funding to be able to offer Excellence in Law scholarships, to talented South African students from previously disadvantaged backgrounds. Several scholarships are available annually, at between R15 000 and R60 000 p.a., paid directly to the recipient's fee account specifically for fees.

Closing date: 15 January

Value: between R15 000 and R60 000 per annum

Tenure: One year (renewable subject to conditions)

In addition to the Excellence in Law Scholarships, there are a number of named scholarships that are offered every few years, which will be advertised via the Faculty Office and on the Faculty website as opportunities become available.

Law Diversity Scholarships

A number of South African and international law firms fund scholarships for tuition fees for the purpose of assisting academically meritorious black South African Law students in need of financial support to complete their studies. This law firm initiative seeks to contribute to the transformation of the legal profession's demographic profile. These scholarships are variable in amount and are intended for fees. The Law Faculty assists in advertising such opportunities if and when they become available.

Firms include Norton Rose Fullbright, Herold Gie, and Cox&Yeats, amongst others.

Closing dates: Variable

Value: Variable

Tenure: One year (renewable subject to conditions, and dependent on the particular law firm)

Everard and Joan MacFarlane Family Leadership Scholarship

The Everard and Joan MacFarlane Family Leadership Scholarship is a prestigious two-year scholarship award, established by a Faculty alumnus and his family, for University of Cape Town Law students in their intermediate and final year of their LLB programme. Awards are made to students in, or going into, their intermediate year of study. Students who have completed their preliminary courses are eligible to apply. This scholarship is geared to contribute to the demographic transformation of the Law Faculty student body and, in turn, the South African legal profession. As such, this scholarship is for law students with financial need who are previously disadvantaged South African citizens, and who also meet the criteria related to leadership and social engagement. Selection is primarily based on academic performance and Everard and Joan MacFarlane Family Leadership Scholarship Scholars are expected to have an excellent academic record. In particular, successful applicants will demonstrate leadership potential and social engagement through a history of participation in student life and leadership, and a commitment to social justice. This scholarship includes participation in a leadership programme in the Faculty.

Closing date: 15 January

198 BURSARIES, SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

Value: R75 000 per annum

Tenure: Two years (renewal is subject to conditions)

Scholarships and bursaries for postgraduate studies in Law other than postgraduate study for an LLB degree

Scholarships awarded without application

Ilse Lowisohn Grants

In 1984 a sum of R10 000 was bequeathed to the University by the late Miss Ilse Lowisohn for the purpose of providing a grant to assist a graduate of the Faculty of Law to undertake courses of postgraduate study in legal history or comparative law at an overseas university. Candidates are selected annually by the WP Schreiner Professor of Law from graduates of the faculty who have shown interest in the historical and comparative dimensions of Roman-Dutch law. Recipients must be registered or intend to register for an approved course of postgraduate study at an overseas university and use the grant to further their knowledge of Roman Law or one of the modern civil law jurisdictions.

Value: Variable

Tenure: One year

Ina Ackermann Scholarship

A scholarship in memory of the late Ina Ackermann was established in the Faculty of Law from contributions donated to the Ina Ackermann Memorial Fund by family, friends and colleagues. The scholarship is awarded annually in recognition of the importance which Ms Ackermann attached to the role of women in the practising legal profession and is awarded to a woman graduate of the Faculty of Law at UCT who proceeds to the full-time first semester programme offered by the School for Legal Practice. Factors considered when making the award would include academic achievement, financial need and potential for success in the practising legal profession.

Value: Variable

Tenure: Six months

Scholarships for postgraduate study awarded on application

Only candidates registered within the minimum time for completion of their degree are eligible for the award of any of these scholarships, bursaries or grants.

Excellence in Law Postgraduate Scholarships

The Faculty of Law has raised donor funding to be able to offer scholarships to previously disadvantaged South African postgraduate candidates. Several Excellence in Law scholarships are available annually, at LLM, MPhil and PhD level. These are awarded based primarily on academic merit, although financial need may also be a consideration.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: R60 000 pa for LLM or MPhil candidates and R90 000 pa for PhD candidates

Tenure: One year for LLM or MPhil by coursework and research candidates. Two years for Masters by research only candidates subject to satisfactory progress in the first year of registration. Three years for PhD candidates subject to satisfactory progress in the first and second year of registration.

Law Faculty Master's and Doctoral Scholarships

To encourage postgraduate research, the Law Faculty makes awards to suitable candidates for masters degrees by research only or doctoral degrees in the Faculty of Law at UCT. This funding is in addition to other scholarship opportunities and is intended as a form of bridging finance to give candidates contemplating higher degrees the security of knowing that their financial needs will be at least partially met for the first year of their studies, which is a critical period in their progress. Successful candidates must also make application to the UCT Postgraduate Funding Office and other appropriate sources for scholarship funding. Any award from external sources that takes financial support beyond the level of R230 000 per annum for a master's candidate or R283 000 per annum for a doctoral candidate will then be deducted from the scholarship granted by the Faculty.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: R84 000

Tenure: One year (The scholarship may be re-awarded on application once only.)

Basil and Con Corder Scholarship

In 1997, a scholarship was established in terms of the wishes of the late Basil Corder. The scholarship is awarded to a University of Cape Town graduate in law who is registered at the University of Cape Town for the LLM degree by coursework and minor dissertation, on the basis of financial need, proven academic merit and having displayed a concern for the wider community through service individually or in voluntary organisations. Preference will be given to an applicant who will be completing part of the degree at a university outside South Africa. In the event that there are no suitable candidates for the award at the level of LLM studies, the scholarship may be awarded to an applicant registered for the Intermediate or Final Level LLB, on the basis of financial need, proven academic merit and indication of concern for the wider community, as set out above.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: Variable (approximately R10 000)

Tenure: One year

Ethel Walt Human Rights Scholarship

Ethel Walt was a human rights activist who directed her passion for social justice through her work in the Black Sash. This scholarship is awarded towards tuition for the LLM or MPhil programme in Social Justice or Human Rights Law by coursework and minor dissertation. Preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate proven community involvement of some kind, and a commitment to engaging in community issues after graduation.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: R10 000

Tenure: One year

The Alexander Burman Memorial Grant

One grant is awarded each year to a woman who is either a South African citizen or permanent resident, and is in their first year of a PhD in the field of socio-legal studies. The award is based primarily on academic merit although financial need may also be considered, and preference will be given to candidates from previously disadvantaged backgrounds.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: R100 000

Tenure: One year, non-renewable

Sir William Solomon Memorial Scholarship

In 1939 Miss Emile Jane Solomon bequeathed R10 000 to the University to found a scholarship in memory of her brother, the late Sir William Solomon MA KCSI KCMG, formerly Chief Justice of the Union of South Africa.

The scholarship is available for candidates taking research degrees in law by thesis only.

Closing date: 31 January

Value: R20 000 for LLM or MPhil and R30 000 for PhD

Tenure: One year (The scholarship may be re-awarded on application once only)

Dean's Merit List

NOTES:

1. The Dean's Merit List is published annually. It contains the names of students whose academic performance over the year is meritorious and hence worthy of recognition. Students who qualify for inclusion in the list will receive a letter of commendation from the Dean. The list will be posted on notice boards. The academic records of students will be endorsed accordingly.
2. The final results for students who write deferred examinations will be calculated only after publication of the deferred examination results.

204 BURSARIES, SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

For inclusion in a Merit List, a student must:

- (a) obtain an overall percentage of 70% or above in all courses completed for the relevant year of study. Credits from other universities may be included for this purpose, provided that at least the equivalent of four full courses is completed at this university in each of the years.
(Note: For the purposes of computing averages, see the details below in 'How to calculate your total average mark'. The mark for the course Law that Counts (MAM1013F), is not included when determining inclusion in the Dean's Merit List. The required aggregate will include deferred examination results, but not supplementary examination results. The required aggregate will be increased by one percentage point for each course fewer than the prescribed number in the standard curriculum.)
- (b) complete the courses within the minimum period;
- (c) not fail any course in the year concerned; and
- (d) not be repeating any course.

How to calculate your total average mark

Preliminary Level and Five-year LLB curriculum

Add the scores in all the courses of the Preliminary Level, Preliminary Level A, Preliminary Level B, or the relevant year of the undergraduate or graduate extended curriculum stream, as the case may be, adding the scores for whole courses TWICE. To get the average percentage, divide the total so calculated by the number of half course equivalents taken.

Intermediate Level

Add the scores in all the courses of the Intermediate Level, adding the scores for whole courses TWICE. Divide the total number so calculated by 10 to get the average percentage.

Final Level

Whole courses	= % x 4
Half courses	= % x 2
Elective courses	= % x 1

Add the weighted percentages calculated according to the above formula. Divide the total by 20 to get the average percentage.

Medals

A. LLB Class Medals

1. A medal is awarded for a course only if Senate so decides. In determining whether a medal should be awarded for a course, Senate must be guided by the following:

1.1 A medal may be awarded in any course, half course or semester course which is taught during contact periods totalling at least 36 hours, or which has equivalent weight.

1.2 Courses or parts of courses or units may be combined for the purposes of the award of a medal provided:

1.2.1 the courses, part courses or units are not optional, and

1.2.2 they are undertaken in each instance by the same group of students during the course of a single academic year.

1.3 Except as determined by Senate, only one medal is awarded for each course or combination of courses, half courses or semester course.

2. The award of a medal:

2.1 A medal may be awarded only to a student who has demonstrated special ability and no award will be made if there is no candidate of sufficient merit.

2.2 No award will be made to any student undertaking the course for a second time.

2.3 If Senate decides that a medal may be awarded for a course, it must designate the faculty which will make the award. No distinction must be made between students from different faculties undertaking the course.

2.4 The award will be at the discretion of the Faculty concerned and based upon final examinations or class work or both.

3. Publication of awards: A list of class medallists will be published in December and a supplementary list will be published in April, after deferred examination results are known.

Class medals may be awarded in the following LLB courses:

CML3001W	Corporation Law
CML4004S	Labour Law
CML4006W	Commercial Transactions Law
PBL2000W	Constitutional Law

PVL1008H	Law of Persons and Family
PVL2002H	Law of Property
PVL2003H	Law of Succession
PVL3003S	African Customary Law
PVL3003F	Law of Delict
PVL3005W	Law of Contract
PVL3006S	Jurisprudence
PVL4008H	Civil Procedure

B. John Kotze Medal

The late Sir John Gilbert Kotze, formerly a judge of the Supreme Court of Appeal (formerly the Appellate Division), bequeathed a sum of money to the University for a medal to be awarded annually to the Final Level LLB graduate who obtained the highest marks in Roman Law and Private Law. (Note: As Roman Law is no longer a compulsory course in the LLB curriculum, South African Private Law: System and Context is substituted as the equivalent.)

Publications

Acta Juridica

Acta Juridica is published under the auspices of the Faculty of Law of the University of Cape Town. It has appeared annually since 1958 and is the successor to Butterworths South African Law Review (1954-1957). The General Editor is Associate Professor G Bradfield and the Treasurer is S Lutchman.

Responsa Meridiana

Responsa Meridiana is an annual law review published under the auspices of the Student Law Societies of the Universities of Cape Town and Stellenbosch. It first appeared in 1964. It is purely a student publication and contains articles of legal interest from both within and outside the Faculty of Law.

Law Students' Council

The Law Students' Council (LSC) consists of nine UCT Law students. Students are chosen to represent the Law Faculty through democratic elections held annually and which occur independently of the Student Representative Council (SRC).

The LSC acts a bridge between staff and Law students on both academic and extra-curricular fronts. We strive to develop a healthy student life above and beyond academic learning.

In achieving these aims, the LSC represents the student body in various aspects of the Law Faculty. Our members echo the student voice on the Faculty Board, Academic Planning Committee, Moots Committee, Community Service Committee, Health and Safety Board, Orientation Committee, Information Technology and Equipment Committee, and Timetable Committee.

Our Mission going forward is:

Communication: to facilitate consistent and helpful dialogue between staff and students

Integration: to culture a sense of genuine community within the Law Faculty

Representation: to elevate student-related issues to relevant faculty committees and to create new platforms conducive to hearing and tackling student-related issues

Service: to meeting the academic and social needs of students

Leadership: to build on the foundations laid by past Councils in order to realise long-term goals

Legitimacy: to gain confidence from the student body as an integral part of academic and social life

Our Vision going forward is to meet diverse student needs through healthy communication, effective representation and thoughtful leadership.

Postgraduate Law Students' Council

The PGLSC consists of ten UCT postgraduate law students, elected through annual democratic elections, to represent the postgraduate law students.

The PLSC acts as a link between the Law Faculty staff and the postgraduate law students on both academic and extra-curricular fronts. We strive to develop a healthy student life, above and beyond academic learning.

In achieving these aims, the PGLSC represents the student body in the following Faculty fora: the Faculty Board, IT Committee, Library Committee, Orientation Committee, Teaching and Learning Committee, Timetable Committee, and Transformation Committee.

Our Mission Statement consists of the following:

- Advancing the University's values of promoting inclusivity, transformation, and engaging with the key issues of our natural and social worlds, in a diverse student body,
- Recognising the cultural diversity of the student body and the need for mutual respect and tolerance,
- Facilitating cooperation and constant communication between the Faculty and students,
- Creating an environment that encourages student engagement with challenging issues beyond the confines of their specific academic programmes,

- Ensuring that there are ongoing opportunities for postgraduate students to enhance their academic experience, for example by organising career workshops, and other relevant seminars,
- Empowering students to become transformative and ethical leaders by facilitating and encouraging opportunities for co-curricular learning, and skills development,
- Encouraging, initiating, and supporting active participation of students in community engagement initiatives;
- Promoting research by creating peer-review mechanisms for students, and encouraging networking between students and the Faculty

Our Vision is to enhance student representation with the objective of not only ensuring the personal and professional wellbeing of the students, but also preparing them to be active contributors to the growth and development of their communities through the different roles they will play in society, beyond UCT. We also strive to continue being a leading student leadership council at UCT, that meets the needs of the student body in a timely and effective manner.

Ethics Clearance

Research that involves human participants or animal use for research or teaching must undergo ethics review, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Review generally entails prior approval of a research proposal by a Research Ethics or Animal Ethics Committee. In cases where prior approval is not appropriate, the research proposal should be subjected to appropriate deliberative procedures, according to faculty-specific guidelines. Research papers, research projects, dissertations or theses that involve human participants or animal use may not be submitted for examination if they have not undergone any ethics review process.
