

DIRECTOR: J-PAL AFRICA
Southern Africa Labour and Development Research Unit (SALDRU)
School of Economics
Faculty of Commerce

J-PAL Africa seeks an outstanding professional to be based in Cape Town, to take over as its Director and provide strategic leadership and day-to-day supervision of the office to advance its mission of reducing poverty through evidence-informed-policy on the continent. This senior position will be based at the Southern Africa Labour and Development Research Unit (SALDRU) in the University of Cape Town, School of Economics, which is the host for the Africa hub of J-PAL.

The Abdul Latif Jameel Poverty Action Lab (J-PAL) is a global network of top researchers from universities worldwide who specialise in conducting randomised evaluations of social policies/programmes to generate scientific evidence about what works in the fight against poverty. J-PAL also analyses and disseminates research results, builds partnerships with policymakers and donors, and runs training courses to ensure that policy is driven by evidence, to scale up effective programmes, and strengthen the capacity of local researchers and policymakers.

This is a very senior role that provides an unparalleled opportunity to lead J-PAL Africa, one of the most influential organisations in the evidence-to-policy space on the continent. And as a member of J-PAL's worldwide Board of Directors and Senior Leadership Team, the Director also provides critical inputs into J-PAL's worldwide strategy and management.

Requirements for the position:

- A Masters (or higher) in Public Policy or Economics or another similar social science including graduate level (Honours and up) courses in econometrics/ statistics, microeconomics, or development economics
- Interest in and understanding of Development Economics, in particular, randomised evaluations of social policies/ programs
- 10 years' relevant work experience with at least 5 years of relevant research management, operations, or policy outreach experience. At least some of this experience should have been gained in sub-Saharan Africa.
- Proven leadership and management track record
- Demonstrated ability to understand and communicate findings from rigorous quantitative research.
- Experience leading policy outreach, including strategically identifying and mobilising appropriate policymakers and developing and maintaining these relationships
- Experience preparing policy outreach materials, including written memos and formal presentations at training/ dissemination events
- Experience writing and managing budgets, fundraising, managing grants and donor relationships
- Proven ability to handle multiple diverse assignments at one time, successfully complete assigned tasks and meet deadlines while conducting high-quality work
- Advanced writing and oral presentation skills in English

The following will be advantageous:

- Ability to speak fluently in French

Responsibilities include (please review the full job description for full details of responsibilities):
