

JUNIOR RESEARCH FELLOW (2 POSTS)

(3-year Contract)

Centre for Social Science Research

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES

The Adolescent Accelerators Research Hub (AARHub), a unit of the Centre for Social Science Research (CSSR), invites applications for a 3-year Junior Research Fellowship. The purpose of this position is to conduct, contribute to and support adolescent health research, including research on adolescent mothers and adolescents living with and affected by HIV. The Junior Research Fellow will contribute to the portfolio of the Hub's research (which uses quantitative and qualitative/participatory research methods), and will co-lead a component of an adolescent focused research project, using appropriate method/s.

This JRF will work closely with the Principal Investigators, senior academic and operational colleagues in our unit and at UCT, and the wider project team (including international partners) to support the design and coordination of research activities. The main tasks include (but are not limited to): support of research conceptualization, data collection, analyses, management, mentorship and supervision of research assistants and students (as needed), support for grant reporting and applications, and research dissemination.
