Personal Support Services

Our local partner providers offer additional orientation and support to students, assist with housing, finding peer assistants and personal mentors, and also organise ongoing enrichment programmes which include local excursions and cultural activities.

“I think, in the beginning I was pretty unfamiliar. I had some homesick moments.”
“Maybe it’s because I’ve never been away from home, on a different continent, for so long. But now I just...don’t want to leave.”

Allison — Boston, Massachusetts

Community Service

Study Abroad Students can volunteer for various community service programmes. Popular student run organisations include UCT’s SHAWCO (Student Health and Welfare Centres Organisation) and Ubunye (isiXhosa word for unite). The volunteering initiatives offer great opportunities to make a difference by working in disadvantaged communities and learning first-hand about different aspects of South Africa. They are also a great place to make new friends!
