Vacation		Summer Term (20 teaching days)

1. Teaching

Each semester has 60 teaching days, 5 consolidation days and 15 exam days.

There is a mid-semester vacation of a week in each semester, with a 5.5 week vacation in mid-year.

Winter and Summer term of 20 teaching days each are included.

2. Supp and deferred exams

The supp and deferred exams for all F courses are scheduled in the last three days of the July vacation.

This ensures that fewer student will be taking exams in January 2024. (The January exams and subsequent FEC create huge strain on the academics in January when they are busy with registration and final supervision of students planning to submit in early February.)

3. Graduation

The 2024 academic year has two graduation seasons: one in Autumn (or all who completed by the December FEC) and one in Spring (for all who completed by the mid-year FEC). The mid-semester vac will be used in each case. Given the volume in the Autumn ceremony, it will be necessary to extend the Autumn season into the evenings in the week before the vacation, and potentially also the public holiday (21 March) and or a Saturday. The placement of the two graduation seasons will assist the faculty offices with work load in January as the qualifiers who complete on the basis of the January exams, will not need processing for the March season.
