The Wellcome Early-Career Awards scheme is soliciting applications from early-career researchers from any discipline who are ready to develop their research identity. Through innovative projects, awardees will deliver shifts in understanding that could improve human life, health, and wellbeing.

By the end of the award, successful candidates will be equipped to lead their own independent research programme. Research proposals may be in any discipline - including science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), experimental medicine, humanities and social science, clinical/allied health sciences, and public health - as long as it has the potential to improve human life, health and wellbeing, and aligns with the Wellcome Trust's funding remit.

Award details:

- Grants are available for up to five years, but this may be less for some disciplines, and longer if held on a part-time basis.
- Applicants may request salary and up to £400,000 for research expenses.
- More information regarding allowable and non-allowable costs can be found here.

Eligibility:

The call is open to early-career researchers who:

- Hold a PhD or have completed four years' equivalent research experience; and
- Are ready to design, plan, and deliver their own innovative project that aims to:
 - Advance understanding in their field, and/or
 - Develop methodologies, conceptual frameworks, tools, or techniques that could benefit health-related research
- Please review the Wellcome's Eligibility and Suitability criteria to confirm your individual eligibility.

Deadlines & submission process:

This proposal requires the PI to complete an online application on the funder portal (Wellcome Funding platform) as well as requesting institutional approval via UCT's electronic Research Administration (eRA) system, prior to submission of the application.
